VARSITY IDLE IN RESPECT FOR BILLY WASMUND

o Practice is Held While Old Team Mates Journey to Former Michigan Quartercack's uneral.

FRESH TRIMS RESERVES.

Drop Kicks by Collette Turn Tide on Andy Smith's Substitutes.

...in the memory of "Billy" ... former Michigan quarterback whose funeral occurred yesterday in Detroit, the Michigan football team did not practice yesterday afternoon. Coach Yost, players Conklin and Wells, of this year's team, and Edmunds and Smith, former teammates of Wasmund, attended the services.

Instead of the regular practice, the team went through a signal drill in the basement of Waterman gymnasium Monday night. Coach Yost nor Captain Conklin did not return from Detroit last night and the practice was directed by "Stan" Wells. The team did not don suits, but merely walked through the formations, striving to obtain perfection in the signals, rather than efficiency in getting away in the plays.

Coach Yost kept notes on the various plays used in the Case game, recording points both in favor of and against the Wolverine showing. On the latter points he will base much of this week's practice. At least two days of the week will be spent in drilling the team on the weaknesses exhibited during Saturday's game.

Yesterday afternoon the All-Fresh eleven mixed with the Varsity scrubs in a short scrimmage. In about 40 minutes of play the Freshmen scored six points against the scrubs. Collette, the former Menominee and Beloit college player, scored all the Fresh points by drop kicking two goals. Coach Cole of the Fresh team tried out a number of men in the various positions and consequently the team work of the Fresh team was ragged. The scrubs did not present their full strength.

MICHIGANENSIAN TRYOUTS POSTPONED BY DEATH.

The Michiganensian meeting for tryouts, which was scheduled for Sunday morning, was postponed. Frank Shaw, the Business Manager, received word of the sudden death of his father. Mr. Shaw left yesterday afternoon for New York, and will not return until the end of the week. Announcement of this meeting will be made later.

COMMITTEES OF LITERARY DEPARTMENT ARE ELECTED.

Election of the various committees took up the most of the time at the first meeting of the faculty of the literary department last evening. Several changes were made in the administrative board. These were made necessary by the departure of some of the members from the university and the call of duties in other work about the campus.

Dean Reed, Professors M. Winkler, F. M. Taylor, J. L. Markley, A. G. Hall, E. H. Kraus, J. B. Reeves, C. Bonner, A. L. Cross, E. C. Case, T. E. Rankin, and C. P. Wagner were chosen for that committee.

Professor J. R. Effinger was appointed to the senate council in place of Professor A. H. Lloyd who is absent on leave. Prof. J. A. C. Hildner was given the task of looking after the sophomore advisory board and Professor T. E. Rankin was selected to advise the freshmen. The library board was re-elected without any change.

The faculty authorized a new course which was recommended by Professor Albert Lockwood. It will consist of research work in connection with the Stearn's collection of musical instruments which is kept in the university museum.

COMMERCE CLUB MAKES BIG PLANS FOR YEAR.

Tentative plans for the meetings of the year have already been arranged by the Commerce Club and the outlook for an exceptionally interesting program is brighter than ever before. Instead of the trip to Toledo at the end of the school year, the organization has planned several trips to Detroit to visit the various factories of that city.

Dr. Milton McRae, President of the Detroit Board of Commerce, Thomas W. W. Craig, Frederick B. Stevens, and Mr. Wilson, Secretary of the Detroit Board of Commerce, are among those who will speak before the members of the organization.

Membership to the club is limited to forty men of the senior and junior classes taking twelve hours of Economics. The first business meeting of the year will be held tonight in Room 201 of the Economics Building, to consider applicants for membership and to complete the plans for the year. Students desiring to become members of the club should hand their names to Professor Jones of the Economics Department.

Chinese Club Increases.

Of the 63 Chinese indemnity students that came to America toward the end of last month, Michigan drew the largest number, 18 of them deciding to cast their lot here. This makes a total of 51 Chinese students at the university, over half of whom are supported by the indemnity fund provided for by the Chinese government for the education of Chinese students abroad.

The Chinese student's Michigan club, which was formed five years ago, but the existence of which was not announced until this summer, held its regular monthly meeting in room 248 of the New Engineering building, last evening at 7:00 o'clock. The primary purpose of this club is to keep the Chinese students in the state of Michigan in close touch with their mother country and with each other, and to promote the general interest and welfare of all concerned.

THIRTY CROSS COUNTRY MEN ARE PRESENT AT MEETING.

"If you make any showing at all you are going to be sent East to represent Michigan" said Dr. Kraenzlein to the thirty men who presented themselves to Captain Beardsley at the trophy room in Waterman gym last evening as candidates for the cross country team.

Captain Beardsley gave a brief outline of the history and purpose of the Cross Country Club. "Pat" Gamble, varsity track captain gave a short talk on the benefits of cross country work. He said that the "Success of the team depends on the individual efforts of the men on it."

Two cross country squads will run Tuesday afternoon, the fast, at 5:15 and the slow, at 4:15.

SPECIAL TRAIN IS TO CARRY ROOTERS

Rate to Lansing Is Secured and Details For Trip Are Arranged

ADMISSION TO GAME WILL BE $1.

Arrangements for the special train which is to take Wolverine rooters to Lansing for the Michigan-M. A. C. game, have been completed. The train will leave the Michigan Central station at 8:45, and returning will leave Lansing at 7:30. The railroad fare is $1.

Of special interest to Michigan students is the price of admission to the game. The general admission fee is $1 which gives standing room privileges along the side lines. Grand stand seats between the 30 yard lines will bring $1.75, while $1.50 will be charged for all other grand stand seats.

Director Bartelme was in recent telephone connection with Coach Macklin of the Lansing team, and the latter stated that the Michigan game was the big game of the Lansing schedule and that therefore the M. A. C. management felt justified in charging the above named admission price. He stated that the standing room on the side lines will accommodate 1,500 people.

Tag Day Proves Big Success.

To enroll every college girl is the ambition of the Woman's League partially realized as a result of yesterday's sale of tags. Nearly 600 women have already joined the League and it is hoped that practically all of the remaining 200 women in school can be induced to enroll before this evening.

"This year's membership campaign has been unusually successful," said Miss DeLano, chairman of the Women's League membership committee, when interviewed yesterday afternoon. "Our enrollment to date is nearly as large as that of all last year."

University to be Inspected.

Mr. Herbert Dow, of Midland; Mr. Walter Russell, of Detroit, and Mr. Mauch of Hillsdale College, comprising the State Board of Visitors, will arrive tomorrow for the purpose of inspecting the University with President Hutchins. This board is appointed by the State Superintendent of Instruction to inspect the schools of the state and report is being made to him. The inspection of the University will take at least three days.

WOMEN'S ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION HOLDS FIRST MASS MEETING.

Over 400 athletically inclined young women were present at the rousing mass meeting of the Women's Athletic association held at Barbour Gymnasium yesterday afternoon. This was the first meeting of this nature ever held by the association, and proved to be a great success.

The principal speakers were Miss Bigelow and her assistant, Miss Berry, both explaining and outlining the activities of its association. Short talks were given by Miss Woodhouse, President of the association; Miss Nadeau tennis manager; Miss Hopkins, hockey manager; Miss Higgins, basket ball manager, and Miss Spaley, vice-president.

SUBSTANTIAL GAIN IN REGISTRATION

Total figures reached 4675 yesterday afternoon.

A LOSS IN TWO DEPARTMENTS.

The total registration in the university reached 4675 yesterday afternooon, a gain of 101 over last year at this time. The enrollment of students is still continuing in all departments. Substantial gains are reported from nearly every department. The literary shows the largest increase with 157, the engineering next with 39, graduate school shows 19 more students, homeopathic 10 and the dental department 7. The pharmic department has the same number enrolled as last year at this time.

Two departments show a loss, the medic leading with a decrease of 72 due to the increase entrance requirements that took effect two years ago. There are 59 less number of law students in the university than last year. The cause is attributed to the raising of the standard of the law department.

Damaged Safe is Repaired.

The door of the safe in the Treasurer's office, which was badly damaged by yeggs last Wednesday morning, has been replaced by one formerly used in the First National Bank. Nitroglycerine employed by the robbers, bent the door to such an extent that it could not be repaired.

The repairs on the vault are hardly more than temporary, as it is expected a new safe will be installed later.

A. A. Klein, '11, Gets Good Position.

A. Albert Klein, who graduated in the June class of 1911, has been appointed petographer to the United States bureau of standards with his headquarters at Pittsburgh. He will apply the petographical optical methods to the study of cement.

While here, Klein was an assistant in the minerology department for three years, but was perhaps better known as the manager of the University band for last year.

Recently the University of Kansas organized a debating league among the high scholls of the state. The extension division of the university supplies them with debate material, bibliographies and magazines.

PROF. ZOWSKI ENTERTAINS TWENTY POLISH STUDENTS.

Prof. and Mrs Zowski, entertained over 20 Polish students at their residence, Saturday evening. Eleven of the 13 members of the Polonia Literary society of 1910-11 were present, the remainder of the guests being new students.

The increase in the membership of the Polonial society is due chiefly to the efforts of a committee of three Detroiters which was appointed in June of this year for the purpose of conducting a campaign to establish a Polish educational center at the University of Michigan. The Polish press of the country supported the movement inaugurated by the committee by printing a series of circulars which were sent to all the Polish weekly and daily newspapers.

The officers for the ensuing year are: Francis Dombrowski, president; Ladislaus Garsztecki, vice-president; Adolph Blecki, secretary; Andrew Sambor, treasurer; and Simon A. Walkowiak, librarian.

LANDMARK PASSES WITH HAZING

"College Inn," Old Soph Headquarters is Dismantled.

Liberty street does not let its pride run rampant over other city highways these days. Into the land from which there is no return has gone its greatest claim to fame for along with the old days has departed the most characteristic landmark of those same days. Old College Inn is no more.

Time was when College Inn featured the opening of every new year. From its four small walls radiated the picket lines of the mighty sophomore class. Into those four walls emptied the soph drag-net. Liberty street was the danger zone for the freshman, College Inn its hated center. Here he learned his alphabet anew. Here he gave his high school yells. Here he ate of garlic and mustard and stale "dog." Also did he learn that to those higher up on the ladder of classes must he show respect; that the traditions of a university are many; that a freshman is a freshman until his cap has been licked by the flames of a certain annual fire. Such were the old days.

Now dismantled foundations and debris mark the place where the schooling was once administered. A huge tank—once a receptacle for those whose training must needs be accompanied by a plunge into water tempered by cold October nights—weathers away in the rear. The sign rests listlessly on the ground. And he whose memory dates back to the time when the mere mention of College Inn brought fear and trembling to his very heart and soul, sighs at the desolation.

Dr. Warthin in Annual Address.

Dr. Warthin, of the medical faculty, will deliver the annual address to new men next week Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday in the West Amphitheater of the New Medical Building. Tickets can be obtained at the Y. M. C. A.

Acacia to Build on Old Site.

That the Acacia fraternity, whose house was destroyed by fire last winter, will rebuild on their old site on State street, is now a certainty. Plans for the new building are now being drawn, but it is not expected that building operations will be started until late next year.

PRES. HUTCHINS GIVES ADVICE TO FRESHMEN

In Annual Address He Tells New Students How to Secure Best From University Training

MORAL TRAINING SECURE HERE.

He Denies That Michigan Should be Called the "Godless" University.

"A word or two that will be helpful to the first year men in the building up of their character and manhood, and in their moral and religious growth," was the way President Harry B. Hutchins described the purpose of his address to the freshmen at Newberry hall Sunday night. Among other things, Pres. Hutchins said:

"It is important that you get started right. I have noticed failure after failure, not only in the university, but in life because the man was not started right. It is of highest importance to get into the right crowd and into the right surroundings.

"There are some things that must be done if the new man is to avoid the dangers that surround a life away from home. It is necessary, first, that you get control of yourself, and do your own thinking. You must find for yourselves the answer to the great questions of conduct and life. As students you are laboring under certain duties and responsibilities. You owe a duty to your parents and friends to make your university life a success, to go out into the world as a well-rounded man fit for the duties of life.

"You are also under duty in another way. I do not think that the student as a rule realizes his duty to society until after life. It is for public service that the university student is educated at public expense, and it is right here that he should begin to fit himself for this public service.

"There are certain things which you must do to discharge your duty faithfully. First, you must make the most of your university life. Secondly, you must make the most of the general opportunities that the university offers you. Then again, you must look after your health, for knowledge without health is useless. Furthermore, attention must be given to your moral and spiritual development. The world is looking for men strong in morals to lead its great movements. There are aids on all sides for moral development. First, there is the Students' Christian Association. This university is often called a "godless" one, yet we have the largest Christian association in the world. Furthermore, we have in this town, guilds and churches indirectly connected with the university, where you will always be welcome

"Then too, there is the faculty. All the members hold the correct attitude toward moral questions, and all are ready and willing to aid you. Whenever you are in doubt ask a faculty member. The faculty are not your natural enemies, they are your friends. They are the best friends you have in Ann Arbor."
