REGULARS GET SECRET DRILL ON SIGNALS

Yost Dispenses With Scrimmage and Spends Time in Putting Team Through Long Grind on Formations.

FORWARD PASS IS STILL WEAK.

Injuries Cause Changes in Lineup That Makes Varsity a Little Slow.

There was secret practice yesterday afternoon on Ferry field and contrary to expectations the coach did not send the men into a scrimmage with the Reserves but rushed them through a long signal drill. Garrells was in at right guard and Wenner had the right end position in place of Wells who was not out in a suit. His elbow is far from well but Dr. Kraemlein hopes to get him into the Vanderbilt game Saturday. Pontius was back, however, and Yost put him in at right tackle.

The Varsity ripped off the plays with a snap that looked good but there is room for improvement. The numerous shifts and changes have of course slowed up things to a certain extent.

Forward Pass Still a Puzzle.

The forward pass still remains a mystery to the team. It was seldom worked yesterday with any success even though there was no one to attempt to intercept the heaves. McMillan and Thomson were doing the hurling and it seemed that the tendency to pass underhand is one of the causes for the difficulty in making the pass work. There will have to be a decided improvement in this department of the game if Michigan is going to be able to make use of the many new plays that Yost has invented for this fall.

It looks now as though the lineup for the game with the Commodores will be: Conklin and Wells or Wenner, ends; Bogle and Pontius or Roblee, tackles; Quinn and Garrels or Almendinger, guards; Paterson center; McMillan, quarter; Craig and Carpel, halves, and Thomson full.

The Vanderbilt team will arrive this morning. The Wolverines will turn Ferry field over to the visitors and practice on the south gridiron this afternoon.

TRIANGLES INITIATE TEN NEW MEMBERS INTO SOCIETY

The annual fall initiation of the Triangles, junior engineering society, was held at the Union last night. Professors Rich and Ellis, honorary members of the society, were present and gave short talks. Philip Fletcher acted as toastmaster. The following junior engineers were taken into the society: George Brown, Leon Paddock, Frank Weaver, Harold Williamson, Berry Ratliffe, Bruce Anderson, Frank Gibbs, W. S. Hopkins, Kirk Hoagg and Clinton Edwards.

Engineers to Study Detroit Pump.

Several students of the engineering department will go to Detroit tomorrow to watch the tests of the large Holly pump, which is being installed at the Detroit city water works.

VANDERBILT PLAYERS WILL PROBABLY USE FIELD HOUSE.

Lockers are in Place and the Showers are Ready.

In all probability the new Michigan field house will be opened to accommodate the Vanderbilt team which arrives in the morning," said Director Barteime last evening. "We have not definitely decided but as the lockers are in place and the showers ready for use it is probable that the Vanderbilt players will be quartered on Ferry field."

While the field house is far enough completed to warrant its use by the Vanderbilt team the Michigan players will not take advantage of the fact. If the Vanderbilt team is quartered in the field house, the formal opening will be postponed until a later date when the club house is nearer completion according to Director Barteime.

OPERA PARTICIPANTS TO BEGIN REAL WORK TONIGHT.

Bert St. John, director of "An Awakened Ramses" will arrive in Ann Arbor this afternoon and will take charge of the 1911 Opera until it has made its debut. Only a little over a month now remains until the opera is staged and the arrival of Director St. John marks the start of a grind for all the participants.

There will be reading tryouts for the speaking parts held at the Union this evening before Mr. St. John. At this time lists for the costumes and scenery will be tentatively made out.

"Rehearsals will begin in earnest tonight," said Chairman Cox yesterday. We are beginning earlier than ever before, and our material so far is excellent. All points to a most successful production."

There are some eligibility cards still out which should be obtained from Professor Strauss and turned in at the Union.

Diphtheria Patient is Improving.

Mr. Aubrey Tealdi, quarantined last Monday with diphtheria has improved so rapidly that he sat up for the first time yesterday. It is the opinion of the attending physicians that he will be out the latter part of the week.

Mrs. Demmon, wife of Prof. Demmon, who was quarantined with Mr. Tealdi has as yet shown no symptoms of the disease.

"Joe" Horner Back In Ann Arbor.

Joseph Horner, '11, last year's track captain who broke the intercollegiate record for shot put at the Eastern meet last spring, spent part of yesterday in Ann Arbor on business. He is engaged in selling stock for the new English Rees Roturbo rotary pump, and came back to Ann Arbor from his present quarters in Manistee, Michigan to have the authorities here test and pass upon the invention.

Homeop Faculty Dines Tonight.

The Homeopathic faculty will hold the first of the series of five smokers at 7:30 this evening at the Michigan Union. Regent Beal, Dean Hinsdale, and Messrs. Pillsbury, Henry, and King will speak. Dr. W. Meyers will act as toastmaster.

Prof. Reeves to Speak at Alpha Nu.

Prof. Reeves of the economics department will address the Alpha Nu society at its regular meeting tomorrow night.

TAFT DOESN'T LIKE "RAH-RAHS."

President Displeased with Student Cheering at Minnesota.

(Special to The Michigan Daily.)

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN., Oct. 26.—Pres. Taft criticised the "Rah Rah" reception given him at the University of Minnesota yesterday.

"I suppose that it is necessary to keep up those barbaric yells," said the president, and that it is necessary for the leaders to go through the contortions we have just witnessed in order to evoke the real college sprit. They were not necessary thirty or forty years ago, when we got along with a good deal more graceful hurrah."

President Taft declared that it was well that most of the university men face the world without money.

"After you have been out of college twenty-five years," said he, "look back and pick out a single man who has made a real success who has had money enough to live on."

EXPECT "PEPPERY" MEETING TONIGHT

Rooters Will Gather to Get up Enthusiasm for Vanderbilt Game.

COACH "DAN" McGUGIN TO SPEAK.

The second mass meeting of the football season will be held this evening at 7 o'clock in University hall. A record crowd is expected and arrangements have been made for spirited speeches, yells and songs, as well as for music by the band.

Coach "Dan" McGugin, of the Vanderbilt team, and Prof. Morris P. Tilley, of the English department, are the speakers for the evening. The yells will be led by the men who conducted the rooting at last Saturday's game. Woodbridge Metcalf will direct the singing, and the varsity band will dispense the music. "Lyndy" will also be among those present. Seats will be reserved for both the Vanderbilt and Michigan teams.

Admission to the rally will be by ticket only. The required pasteboards may be obtained at the Athletic Association office today.

LOSS OF TWO PLAYERS WILL WEAKEN NEBRASKA LINEUP.

LINCOLN, NEB., Oct. 26.—Two of Nebraska's veteran players have turned in their football suits and signified their intention of quitting the gridiron game. Hornberger, veteran center, and Pearson regular right guard have both abandoned football, the former because his playing hastened the death of his grandmother through worry and the latter on account of the press of college work. Both quit the game after the Minnesota contest. Their departure will weaken the team which will meet Michigan Nov. 25.

BOARD DENIES SOPH PROTEST.

Contested Gridiron Victory is Awarded to Junior Lits.

The Athletic Board yesterday, quashed the two protests, filed by the sophomore lit football team as a result of Monday's game with the junior lits, in which the score was 5 to 0 in favor of the juniors. The first protest called into question the referee's decision, which gave the juniors a touchdown as to whether the ball was dead at the time the whistle was blown. The referee was given a clean slate.

The second petition was against one of the members of the junior squad, whom, it was claimed, was a senior, as he had 85 hours credit. The board ruled that according to the custom which has always been followed, a player is eligible to play in the class he enters college with. The player in question, entered with the class of 1913, but since that time has secured extra credit in summer school.

WILL NOT PLAY STUDENT DRAMA

Comedy Club Fails to Find Suitable Book Written by Local Author.

MAY PRODUCE "TOM PINCH."

The Comedy club has voted out student plays and it is probable that "Tom Pinch," adapted from Dicken's "Martin Chuzzlewit," will be produced. Five plays were submitted by student authors to the committee but thorough perusal ruled them out, in spite of the fact that some of them were very good in the eyes of the judges.

One of the reasons why "Tom Pinch" is favorable is that this year commemorates the centennial of the birth of Charles Dickens.

Tryouts for this year's play will be given in the near future at a date yet to be set.

The play will be given at an earlier date this year than last. As in other years two performances will be given, one in January and the other at the time of the Junior Hop.

An especial opportunity is open this year for those who are gifted with dramatic ability. With the loss of a probable shortage of lead parts this year many will be given a chance to secure good roles.

Barbour Gym Classes to Start.

Gymnasium classes for women will start next Monday in Barbour gymnasium. The course is required for freshmen and others may make special arrangements for taking the work. The first year students will report at 2, 3, 4 or 5 o'clock Monday afternoon for enrollment. It is required that the students have locker tickets which can be secured at the university treasurer's office on payment of the fee.

Freshman Number.... GARGOYLE Comes out Tomorrow

COMMODORES WONT SOB.

"If we don't beat Michigan we will not grieve over it—we will congratulate you," said Prof. William L. Dudley, of Vanderbilt University who lectured before Phi Lambda Upsilon last evening.

"We are confident of giving you fellows a hard battle. The team is in the best of condition, and the few rooters who will accompany it are in the best of humor. No one will cry over the result."

CLASSES IN CHEERING TO BE HELD AT S. C. A. PARTY.

The guests at the annual reception to be given by the S. C. A. this evening at Newberry Hall will be divided into cheering sections representing Vanderbilt, Syracuse, Cornell and O. S. U. Universities. Each section will be led by a member of the faculty who is a graduate of those universities. The entertainment will be followed by refreshments.

While special invitations have been issued only to the freshman, the reception is open to all students. It will begin at 8 o'clock.

NEWS FROM OTHER COLLEGES MAY COME BY WIRELESS.

There is a possibility of the university wireless station being utilized as a medium for the reception and distribution of news with surrounding universities who are equipped with similar stations. A new epoch will be started in college journalism, if this plan is put into effect, and the Michigan Daily will be enabled to print the latest news of the college world.

Experiments are being conducted with the Fleming wireless cynometer recently added to the wireless equipment of the electrical engineering department of the university, under the supervision of Prof. H. D. Parker. Tests show that the approximate length of the waves sent by the wireless outfit is 580 meters.

PHILOSOPHICAL SOCIETY ELECTS NEW MEMBERS.

At a meeting of the Acolytes, the honorary philosophical society, Tuesday evening, the following men were elected to the society: Karl Mohr, Harold Devree, Ed. Kemp, R. K. McAlpine, Kenneth Osborne, H. M. Winter, Arnold W. Houser, Louis Stern, A. G. Erickson, D. C. Crismore, H. E. Williams and L. R. Batterson.

Craftsmen to Hold Smoker.

The initial smoker and reception of the Craftsmen will be held in the Masonic temple tomorrow evening. There will be several short talks given to the members and their friends. The meeting is open to all student Masons.

Aeronauts Elect President.

O. R. Blumberg was elected president of the Aeronautical Society at the initial meeting of the club last night. He will fill the vacancy left by Holler who did not return this year to college. Amendments to the constitution made the initiation of the society $1.00 for this year.

AUDITORIUM SOON TO BE A REALITY

Regents Give Committee Power to Award Contracts for Building New Structure; Site Causes Some Delay.

TRANSACT MUCH NEW BUUSINESS

Board Discusses Variety of Questions Concerning University's Welfare.

Another step toward the final realization of the Auditorium plans was taken yesterday when the Board of Regents authorized the finance and building committees to consider the bids which have been received and to determine upon the contractors. The university officers were given power to make the proper contracts with the bidders whose offers are accepted.

These proceedings are, however, subject to any delay which may be entailed by the transfer of the necessary real estate. No matter how prompt the finance committee may be in making its selection the progress of the undertaking now also hinges upon the condemnation proceedings which have been instituted against some of the property adjoining the site.

Similar action was taken in the matter of a heating plant, the finance and building committees also being authorized to act upon the bids for this building.

Professors Kelsey and Lorch laid a scheme of architecture before the board towards which the university might work in providing for new buildings and which would tend to harmonize the general appearance of the campus.

The Board adopted the report of the committee on the proposed university extension teaching. According to it about three hundred lectures will be given during the coming year in different parts of the state. President Hutchins and the deans of the different departments will constitute a committee to choose the lecturers and subjects.

Acknowledgment was made of the gifts by Detroiters to the Women's Residence Hall Fund.

Report was made that the Acme White Lead and Color Works, of Detroit, has offered to provide $500 for the establishment of a fellowship for the purpose of studying how to keep concrete and stucco from disintegrating. The fellowship will be given this year.

Anton A. Schlicte was appointed first holder of the Carl Schmidt $500 fellowship in tanning. The Michigan Gas Association's junior scholarship of $300 was divided equally between two holders, Louis C. Nodell, of Coldwater, and Dale L. Chamberlain, of Ann Arbor.

Instructors Appointed.

The following instructorship appointments were announced: W. H. Rathke, in French and Spanish in the engineering department, to take the place of Prof. Bird; Abraham M. Fox, in descriptive goometry, Stanley B.

The Student Lecture Association has procured a better program this year than it has had in several years past. The series of Lectures and Entertainments that will be presented are all high class. You can get more for $2.50 in a S. L. A. ticket than you can from any other organization on the Campus. Buy a ticket today. Only $2.50 for 9 numbers with free reservation.
