TEAM SHOWS PEP IN FINAL SCRIMMAGE

Varsity Takes Brace in Game With Scrubs; Contest on Saturday With South Dakota Will be Close.

LINEUP SLIGHTLY CHANGED; BENTLEY GOES IN AT FULL.

Boyle and Collette Work Out at Half; Bushnell Fills Quarterback Position.

Michigan's Varsity showed up considerably better than in the several previous practices yesterday afternoon when Coach Yost sent his men through the final scrimmage drill before the problematical South Dakota game. The work of the men who worked in the Varsity ranks was far ahead of Wednesday's showing, but there were still a number of faults that may make the outcome of the game exceedingly close.

The lineup that Yost used against the scrubs was again slightly changed, but the most conspicuous feature was the sending of Bentley to fullback for the entire rough drill. Though Bentley is light, he is an excellent punter, and should anything happen to Thomson, it seems apparent that Yost wants a kicker to send into the fray. Boyle and Collette worked at the halves and Bushnell at quarterback. The line was about the same as has been used by the coach all week with the exception of Musser who was used in place of Paterson as pivot man.

Improvement in Defensive Tactics.

During the contest with the scrubs, the Varsity showed improvement in defensive tactics. Coach Yost and Assistant Coach Schulte gave the men individual attention and seemed to have accomplished something by the tactics they have been employing all week. On offense the Varsity also seemed to advance the ball in better form than in Wednesday's scrimmage, while the play at blocking and tackling also seemed improved.

Though Coach Yost has not announced his lineup for the South Dakota game, it seems that from the showing of the men made this week he is bound to use the following combination: Torbet, left end; Cole, left tackle; Clem Quinn, left guard; Paterson, center; Alimendinger, right guard; Pontius, right tackle; Carpel, right end; Huebel, quarter; Craig, left half; Thomson fullback; Boyle, right half.

Paterson May Be Kept Out of Game.

There are several things which may prevent this lineup from starting, principal among them being the fact that Trainer Farrell may not allow Paterson to step into the game. In this case Musser seems the logical man for the position. There may be a change at Boyle's half, or at either of the ends and possibly quarterback, but it is the opinion of those who have been watching practice that the eleven here named is about the strongest Yost could select to start the game and that it will be these men whom the coach will send on the field Saturday afternoon.

TO AVOID CONFLICTING DATES.

Societies Must See Prof. Lloyd Before Arranging Engagements.

In order to avoid conflicts of dates of different society meetings and university events, Prof. Lloyd, chairman of the committee on non-athletic organizations, has requested that all societies and clubs consult him before arranging for any important events. The committee has the power to cancel any dates selected.

Prof. Lloyd also wishes to receive the names of all officers in student organizations and to remind candidates for offices that certain eligibility rules must be complied with.

Present office hours of the committee which meets in University hall are Tuesday and Thursday 11:45 to 12:15 o'clock, and Saturday 10:45 to 11:00 o'clock.

COYOTE TEAM IS COMPOSED OF VETERANS

University of South Dakota Eleven Promises to Give Wolverines Fierce Battle Saturday Afternoon.

DAKOTAS HAVE HEAVY TEAM AND AVERAGE 185 POUNDS.

Will Outweigh Varsity About Fifteen Pounds to the Man; Opponents Backfield Is Fast.

If anyone should imagine that the team, which represents the University of South Dakota is going to be an easy proposition for the Varsity Saturday, he had better not trust his bank roll on that belief, and unless he enjoys being sadly disappointed he had best change his opinion. A few facts plucked as it were by random, bring some startling sensations to the part of the brain devoted to football, and set one to doubting as to what the outcome will be. They have a heavy team, an aggregation of veterans, and a fine record.

Michigan will be outweighed about fifteen pounds to the man when they step on the field Saturday, and if the wet weather continues and the field is muddy that weight is going to prove an important factor. The lightest man on the Coyote team boasts of 170 pounds of beef and the heaviest tips at 205. The team will average about 185 pounds which is considerably more than the Wolverines balance the scales at and their backfield itself averages over 175. The line is heavy with two stocky fast ends.

Have Had a World of Experience.

There are three men on the team that are playing their fourth year and have had a world of experience. One of these men, Sheek, performs at fullback and is reputed to be one of the best drop kickers in the entire west, being dangerous anywhere inside of the fifty yard line. Three men on the team are playing their third year, three are performing for the second time, and two of the men are new this year. The experience of these men should count materially in the outcome and it will in reality be a team of veterans that Michigan will meet.

Starting out with a victory over Minnesota, who now bids fair to repeat on the conference title, the Coyotes have not lost a game, and only once has their goal line been crossed and that on a fluke play. In their last game, with a small western college, they played eight subs and at that ran up a score of over 70. Their entire time for the past two or three weeks has been taken up preparing for the Michigan game, and they are reputed to have a wonderful and versatile list of plays for Saturday's game. So all in all, Michigan is most decidely going to have their hands full.

Coyotes Will Arrive Here Today.

The South Dakotans are expected to arrive today and if they get here in time they will be offered Ferry field for a short workout. They will be quartered here in Ann Arbor over night so that they can rest after the long trip from Vermillion.

WILL PRACTICE SONGS AND YELLS

Rally of All Michigan Men Will Be Held in Union Addition at 7:30 this Evening.

ALL ARE INVITED TO ATTEND.

Michigan songs and yells will be the feature of a novel rally to be held at the Union at 7:30 o'clock this evening. The meeting will be open to all Michigan men, it being called for the purpose of arousing spirit for tomorrow's game, in the absence of a football mass meeting. Incidentally it is hoped to acquaint rooters with Michigan songs an cheers.

The rally will be held in the large assembly room at the Union. "Cam" Tribble will lead the songs and "Whitey" Otis will go through the motions for the yells. Selden Dickenson will play the accompaniment for the songs.

The men in charge of tonight's rally desire that it be remembered that all Michigan men, whether Union members or not, will be welcomed.

"WHITE PLAGUE" FIGHTERS HOLD CONVENTION TODAY.

Sixth Annual Meeting of Anti-Tuberculosis Society Begins at 1:30 This Afternoon.

This afternoon the doors of Memorial hall will be thrown open to the delegates of the sixth annual convention of the Michigan Anti-Tuberculosis society at 1:30 o'clock. The meeting, in which more than sixty representatives from Michigan's twenty largest cities will sit, will be a series of discussions on the progress that the association is making in this state against the spread of the "white plague." The number of addresses will include a speech by President Collins H. Johnston, of Grand Rapids, and another by Dr. V. C. Vaughan, Jr., of Detroit. After the completion of their work, the delegates will be given a dinner and reception by the university, followed by a general assembly meeting in Memorial hall at 7:30 o'clock to which us in the after[illegible] meeting, everybody is invited.

UNIVERSITY INVITES CHEMISTS.

Institute of Chemical Engineers May Visit Here in December.

Upon the authority of the board of regents, Pres. Hutchins issued a special invitation to the American Institute of Chemical Engineers, asking its members to visit Ann Arbor as guests of the university during the week of the national meeting in Detroit.

The exact date of the meeting has not been decided, but it will probably be the first week of December, and Thursday seems to be the most likely day for the Ann Arbor visit. A committee under the direction of Prof. Alfred White of the chemistry department will have charge of the arrangements. During the morning, a meeting will be held in the chemistry building, following which luncheon will be served the guests at the Union. The afternoon will be spent in an inspection of the university grounds and buildings.

About 100 members are expected to attend the annual meeting. The organization is composed principally of practicing chemists, many of whom are connected with large manufacturing plants in the east.

FINAL PLANS ARE PROPOSED FOR ANNUAL UNION SMOKER.

Committees Meet and Perfect Arrangements to Handle Crowd Without Confusion.

Final plans for the annual football smoker, to be held November 19th in the combined gyms, were formulated at a meeting of the chairman of committees in charge of the affair, yesterday afternoon at the Union.

In the past considerable difficulty has been experienced in preventing congestion and confusion in passing out the pipes and satables, but it is expected that this year some new system may be originated by which all will be served as they enter the hall.

The committee in charge of speakers is already in communication with a number of prominent alumni, and expects to receive definite promises within a few days.

As usual the band will probably play and the glee club will be on the program. The football team will be invited to attend en masse. Tickets will be sold at the usual price, 25 cents, and will be offered to members of the Michigan Union only, unless present plans are changed.

NEW WORKS BY MEMBERS OF FACULTY WILL APPEAR SOON

Prof. C. H. Van Tyne expects the first volume of his "History of the American Revolution" to make its appearance in the near future. A historical work by Prof. E. R. Turner, "The Newmarket Campaign of the Civil War," and a book by Prof. Ulrich Phillips on "The Life of Robert Tooms" are being published. Dr. W. W. Florer is preparing a series of monographs on Luther's use of the pre-Lutheran versions of the Bible, and, working in conjunction with Prof. Jesson of Bryn Mawr, he is also publishing an American edition of "Joel Ubl."

PLANS FOR 1913 YEAR BOOK ARE PROGRESSING RAPIDLY

About a dozen enthusiastic artists have received assignments from the Michiganensian for art work, and a board of four or five disinterested faculty men will judge on the merits of the drawings and award the prizes. The year book is now well lined-up. The athletic and senior sections will be featured this year.

About 25 bids for the printing and engraving work have been received, but final settlement will probably not be made for two weeks.

REFERENDUM BY STUDENTS IS THE PRESENT QUESTION

Michigan Daily Conducts Investigation Concerning Importance of Student Opinion in Campus Matters.

PROMINENT FACULTY MEN ADVOCATE NEW MEASURE.

Ten Fraternities Give Views on Question; Majority Favor the Referendum.

For the first time in Michigan history, the campus is likely to have an opportunity to express its wishes through a referendum. This comes as the result of an investigation carried on by The Michigan Daily yesterday, which shows that the student body believes that the athletic association should, in future years, bear the expense of sending the band with the football team for one big trip each year. A special meeting of the student council will be held tonight, and it will probably make the preparations necessary for a referendum.

Many Students Give Opinions.

In concluding its investigation, The Michigan Daily interviewed faculty members and students, and secured votes from as many fraternities as time would permit. Among the students expressing themselves as decidedly in favor of the referendum, were "Walt" Stiebler, Carter Adams, Dexter Reinhardt, Louis Huller, and Harold Abbott, who think that the referendum should be used to determine student opinion on all current matters of more than passing importance.

Prof. David Friday, of the economics department, said: "The athletic association has assumed the support of our athletics; so the association should send it with the team, or show the absolute impossibility of such a course. As to future years, there is no question but that the association should bear the expense of the band trips. I believe in referendums for the students."

Professor R. M. Wenley said: "The athletic association should shoulder this responsibility. It would be more dignified. This hat-passing has never appealed to me. It reminds me of the line "Billy" Heston—about 1904 I think—made a long run at Wisconsin and won the game for us. When the news reached Ann Arbor, they immediately passed the hat to get him a suit of clothes. The athletic association has a chance to rid the campus of GARGOYLE'S INITIAL ISSUE FOR 1912-1913 IS ON SALE.

October Number Devoted Exclusively to Edification of First Year Students.

Long heralded and long-sought for, the October issue of the Gargoyle has appeared. This number is devoted exclusively to the edification of first year men and contains shocking exposes of fraternity methods calculated to inspire the coldest shiver in the heart of the boldest freshman. Sundry warnings and advice are given in the frontispiece to all the unsophisticated.

"Billy" Canning has a double page sketch of the campus environs, and other well-known joke artists are represented.

COMMUNICATIONS

The Michigan Daily assumes no responsibility for sentiments expressed in communications.

To The Michigan Daily:—

We are left with the impression by the athlete authorities that human ingenuity has exhausted itself in the devising of the plan which apparently has been adopted for the sale of student tickets for the Cornell game. If this be true, it is time for human ingenuity to be put aside for a little horse sense.

Mr. Bartelme says that in order to allow students to purchase 48 seats adjacent to their own it will be necessary to have a duplicate set of tickets. Our query is this, why restrict the students to a particular part of the bleachers? Why not allow each student to exchange his yellow coupon for a seat anywhere on the field? If he does not occupy a seat in the special student section, so-called, it is well known that the athletic association can easily dispose of his space in said section for a two-dollar bill, identically as valuable as that which the asso-

WIRELESS STATION PLANS TO CONDUCT EXPERIMENTS.

Scope of University Apparatus Not Known; Will Communicate With Other Schools.

The university wireless station will conduct a series of experiments to ascertain the longest distance that can be reached by the present equipment. It is definitely known that a radius of 200 miles in within the scope of the station, but it is believed that stations at a much farther distance may be communicated with.

The wires attached to the chimney of the engineering building have been straightened to gain greater efficiency for the aerial, and if the wireless stations at the various universities within call of the local station will co-operate with student operators here, a regular intercourse will be maintained in order to promote efficiency among student operators of the several stations.

So far no word has been received by the local authorities from the United States government regulating the activity of the wireless experiments. It is believed that in the east, where the government has been forced to regulate the sending of wireless messages, it is due to the fact that the regular stations were interfered with by numerous amateur operators. In the west, such a condition does not exist.

CHINESE STUDENTS PLAN TO ARGUE RELIGIOUS QUESTION

Chinese students are to be the guests of some of the Ann Arbor churches on Sunday afternoon, at 3:00 o'clock. At this meeting men of national reputation will discuss some of the questions that have interested the students in connection with Christianity and its application to life. Circulars have been sent to all students, requesting them to bring up any questions which they would like to have discussed.

SENIOR LITS PLAN NOVEL SOCIAL PROGRAM FOR YEAR.

Class Will Hold Four Dinners and Three Luncheons in Addition to Annual Banquet.

Pres. Harold Abbott of the senior lit class has announced the appointment of the banquet committee for this year. Contrary to the past custom of placing the arrangement of class dinners in the hands of the social committee, the dinners this year will be taken care of by the same committee which arranges for the big banquet in the spring. There will be a series of four dinners, the first of which will be held on Wednesday, Nov. 13. Tickets will be $2.00 for the series and may be obtained from the committee consisting of W. Campbell Tribie, chairman, Claudius Pondil, Henry Muller, Don Denison, and Isaac Lowenburg. The dinner scheduled for Feb. 19, 1913, will be given in conjunction with the senior engineers.

A new feature in class affairs this year will be a series of three Saturday afternoon luncheons for the women of the class. The first of these will be held on Saturday, Nov. 23. Tickets for this series may be obtained from Mercedes de Gonnaga or Ruth Davis.

WILL THE ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION CONFORM TO THE WISHES OF ITS MEMBERS?

TEAM LEAVES TONIGHT.

Taking past years as a criterion, William street and neighborhood will tonight witness an old-fashioned student snake-dance, and the Ann Arbor depot will be packed to about four times its capacity. Even adverse weather conditions have never as yet succeeded in putting a damper on the wild enthusiasm so typical of the team's departure for its crucial game.

In the absence of mass meetings this year, the send-off celebration tonight is destined to be a novel event for the new men who are still more familiar with Michigan spirit in splashes than in one big bunch. For the men, older in residence, who have watched these traditional events come and go with the regularity of the seasons, tonight's turn-out will be welcomed as one of the best get-to-gethers of the year.

But to the main point—whether fresh or senior, man or woman, you should make that "train for Penn" tonight.

REGARDING THE BAND.

It would be hard to overestimate the importance of having a band,—a university band,—to furnish music at the football and baseball games. It is a feature as essentially a part of university athletics as the organized cheering, the singing between halves, or the block "M."

Members of the band are called upon to sacrifice a great deal of time at rehearsals in order to make a creditable appearance at the games. Not only this, but each man is required to deposit two dollars with the treasurer of the band at the beginning of the year, out of which a fine of twenty-five cents is deducted every time he misses a rehearsal. It is not reasonable to suppose that men are going to undertake a thankless task of this sort merely for the pleasure of being admitted to games for which they have already paid the price of admission. The band must have an annual trip or it will go out of existence.

The band exists primarily for athletics, and it is the athletic association which should provide for this trip, and, with all due respect to the opinion of the board in control of athletics, the continued existence of the band seems to us of as much importance as the very desirable improvements which the plans of the board call for.

We wish it understood, however, that The Michigan Daily will oppose any attempt to coerce the athletic association by a refusal to play at the Cornell game. Director Bartelme has accounted for the attitude of the executive committee in refusing to send the band to Penney this year. Whether we are convinced by the arguments or not, it is settled that there will be no trip for the band this fall. The situation will never occur again if it is in our power to prevent it. The campus is doing all in its power to have the band properly provided for. We will appreciate this one more sacrifice on the part of the band when we find them with us in urging on the team against the Hoosiers.

University Wireless Station Furnishes Election Reports to Lake Steamers

The university wireless station played an important part in receiving and giving election returns last night. Numerous requests had been received from the Detroit and Buffalo steamers on Lake Erie and from several freighters on Lake Michigan for reports from the local station in regard to the presidential election and reports were sent out to the steamers throughout the night. The Michigan station often serves as a relay between wireless stations in the upper peninsula and Ohio stations in Akron and Cleveland. Attempts have been made in the past to communicate with Washington, D. C., and other eastern cities but as received messages have not yet been confirmed by letter, results cannot be vouched for.
