COACH TUTORS TEAM BEHIND CLOSED GATES

Craig as Punter and Hughitt as Drop Kicker Made Practice Work on Baseball Field Interesting.

FIELD GOALS MAY BE TRIED IN PENNSYLVANIA CONTEST

Scrubs Were Taught Quaker Formations by Coaches Schultz and Cole.

Behind closed gates, Yost yesterday began the last stage of preparation for the season's final game with Pennsylvania. The development of Craig and Hughitt as a punter and drop kicker, respectively, were the features of the day's practice on the snowy baseball field.

Craig's spirals are equal to those of Hughitt in distance, but have a greater elevation on them, giving the ends considerable advantage in running down the kicks. Hughitt's showing as a consistent drop kicking artist from the 35-yard line was a promising performance, as the Michigan teams have not had a drop kicker in several years. At Ithaca Saturday Yost unveiled a new attack for the Wolverines, when Paterson booted a perfect goal from placement, and it would not surprise local critics to see both forms of field goals attempted Saturday.

The players were taken out on the baseball field yesterday, where the scrubs walked through the Quaker formations, as taught them by assistant Coaches Schultz and Cole. Although there was no regular scrimmage, Yost carefully instructed his charges in the proper manner of breaking up the eastern formations.

The two day rest has served to give Trainer Farrell sufficient time to nurse the Michigan cripples back to condition, but Lichtner's side is in such shape that he will be unable to get into the Quaker clash, and Raynsford will appear at the left flank, as the coach has decided to keep Torbet at full.

Scott was taken over to the Varsity squad yesterday.

PROF. REDLICH TO LECTURE TODAY

Prof. Joseph Redlich of the University of Vienna, a Privy Councillor and member of the Imperial Parliament, will lecture on "The Racial Conflicts and Parliamentary Institutions in Europe" at 4:15 o'clock this afternoon in room C of the law building. He is an authority on international and parliamentary law, and has written several volumes on these subjects. His work on "Procedure in the House of Commons" is now in use in one of Prof. Reeves' courses in political sciences.

Accompanying Dr. Redlich is Dr. Alfred Reed of the Carnegie Foundation, who is making an investigation of legal education in the leading colleges of the United States. Prof. Redlich will also report his findings on the study of legal education, from a foreign student's point of view, to the Carnegie Foundation.

The lecture, which is given under the auspices of the law and political science departments, will be open to all students in the university.

Frosh Medics Adopt Honor Pledges

The honor system has been unanimously adopted by the freshman medic class. Their pledge is: (1) I shall not cheat. (2) I shall not help others to cheat. At a meeting to be held at 5:30 o'clock Monday, November 17, in the amphitheatre of the medical building, the details of the system will be discussed. Committees will also be announced, and the social program, which includes several skating parties at Whitmore Lake, will be given out.

"CAFETERIA HOP" FOR 1914 LITS TO BE HELD TOMORROW

"Cafeteria Hop" plans were completed at a meeting of the senior lit social committee yesterday afternoon. The affair will be held in Barbour gymnasium tomorrow. The luncheon will begin at 12:00 o'clock, and dancing will continue from 12:30 to 2:30 o'clock.

Already more than 100 tickets have been sold, and plans will be made for nearly 150. The remaining tickets are on sale by members of the social committee at 35 cents. Dr. H. S. Mallory and Mrs. Mallory will act as chaperones.

TO RESUME CLASS GAMES SATURDAY

With the south end of Ferry field snow bound, the senior engineers and the junior medics stand ready to play for the campus championship, as soon as the battle ground is in shape for a game.

Coach Rowe stated last night that the game would probably be staged Saturday morning, if the field was in shape for a tilt of championship caliber. The recent sophomore medic-sophomore lit tie game will be played again. The winners of this engagement will take on the senior lits and the victors in this contest will play the senior laws for third position in the campus encounters. The senior lits are crippled because of the loss of a couple of their men, but are expected to put up a determined fight for numerals.

McMILLIN ARRIVES TO HELP DRILL TEAM FOR BIG FRAY

Neil McMillin, Varsity quarterback during the seasons of 1910 and 1911, arrived in Ann Arbor yesterday afternoon, and will remain in the city until after the Pennsylvania game.

McMillan will join the ranks of gridiron veterans, who are giving their services in aiding Yost in the final rehearsals for the final clash of the season.

ALMA ROOTERS AND TEAM TO WITNESS GAME WITH PENNSY

Students of Alma college will have a special train to carry them to Ypsilanti on Saturday morning, where they will watch their team play the Normalites, after which they will come in a body to Ann Arbor for the Michigan-Penn battle on Ferry field. Few seats, however, have been mailed to Alma, and it seems that the collegiate warriors and their adherents will be compelled to stand up at the game.

Hillsdale has moved the date of its game with Kalamazoo from Saturday to Friday, so that the players and spectators can see Michigan play Pennsy.

All of the tickets sent to Pennsylvania have been disposed of, and this fact means that at least 480 Pennsy men will come to Ann Arbor with the team.

Cercle Francais Plans for Annual Play

The annual play of the Cercle Francais has been tentatively decided upon, subject to the approval of the faculty, by Mr. Talamon, director of the production. Plans for the course of speakers are rapidly approaching completion. Several new members of the society gave their initial speeches at the meeting Monday night. The next meeting will be held at 8:15 o'clock next Monday.

SEVERAL FACULTY MEMBERS TO GIVE EXTENSION TALKS

Prof. E. C. Goddard, of the law department, will deliver an extension lecture in Clinton tomorrow evening on "Law as to Women." Prof. A. R. Crittenden will lecture in Detroit Friday night before Detroit Museum of Art, on "Civic Center of Ancient Rome." Prof. S. L. Gingerich will talk in Grand Rapids Saturday, on "Wordsworth." Dowagiac is to hear Prof. R. D. T. Hollister Sunday, in his reading of Maud."

PENN THINKS GAME WILL BE EVEN BET

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Nov. 11—Pennsylvania will leave for Ann Arbor on Wednesday night feeling safe that there is more than even chance to defeat the Michigan team in spite of the good showing of the latter eleven against Vanderbilt, Syracuse and Cornell.

It is true that Michigan won, and Pennsylvania lost on Saturday, but there is no comparison between the strength of the two elevens met by these teams. Dartmouth was very much stronger than Cornell, and the fact that Dartmouth was scored on by touchdowns on three occasions, shows that Pennsylvania must have a very strong attack. The three touchdowns show up all the better when it is remembered that the two extra touchdowns scored by Dartmouth, were due to fumbles by Pennsylvania. Each team earned three touchdowns, and as Dartmouth is now recognized as the best team in the east, this means that Pennsylvania is a strong eleven.

The game served to show up some weaknesses in the Pennsylvania line and backfield. The tackles were too easily drawn in, so that plays outside of tackle were good for long gains by the Dartmouth backs. The backs gave the poorest exhibition of handling punts that they have shown this year and the loss of the game can be attributed to this factor more than to anything else. The other glaring weakness of the team was the end play.

The coming game with Michigan will be important, as it is felt here that a victory over Michigan and Cornell will still leave Pennsylvania very near the top of the ranking column, as Dartmouth is sure to be found on an equality with Harvard, or leading her at the end of the season.

1914 YEAR BOOK HAS NEW IDEAS

Associate editors of the Michiganensian may be elected by a different method from that used last year. Previously associate editors have been chosen directly by a vote of the senior classes of the respective departments. If the proposed plan is ratified by the board in control of student publications, Robert Sturtevant, '14, managing editor of the Michiganensian, will appoint double the number needed, and from these, the seniors of each department are to make their choice of the necessary number.

The engraving contract for the year book has been let to the Bureau of Engraving of Minneapolis, Minn., the firm which has done this work for the last two years.

Fraternity and sorority contracts for space in the book have all been filled, but all of the copy has not been turned in. The management requests those organizations, which have neglected to attend to this matter, to do so at once, as all copy should be in before November 15, and is now already past due.

John Lippincott, '14, business manager, has issued a call for more tryouts for the business staff, as the number, which has reported, is unusually small.

Next Union Dinner to Be Held Dec. 3

A cabaret chicken dinner will feature the next number on the Union dinner series, on December 3. Besides some musical numbers the Mimes will give a skit. Prominent faculty men will speak.

PENNSY YELL-FEST PLANS COMPLETED

In a last effort to keep up the old Michigan fighting spirit, the committee in charge of the mass meeting to be held in Hill Auditorium at 7:45 on Friday evening, is leaving nothing undone, and everything points to a "rouser."

Carroll Haff will be on hand to lead the cheering, Edward Kemp will have charge of the singing, and Earl Moore has been secured to produce the music for the affair. He has promised to render the same selection which made such an impression at the convocation.

Many old stars have returned to aid in the polishing of the team for this final contest, and it is expected that the committee will be able to get some of these former M men to address the meeting.

BIG GAME HOP TO BE HELD AT BARBOUR GYM SATURDAY

In place of the regular Saturday night membership dance at the Michigan Union this week, a big dance will be held in Barbour gym. It will be a Penn game party, similar to those that have been held in past years at the time of the big game of the year.

Tickets, which are limited strictly to 250 in number, will go on sale at 5:00 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the Union desk.

Jackson Prison Chaplain Will Speak.

E. H. Lougher, chaplain of Jackson prison, will be the speaker on the Y. M. C. A. series Sunday at the Majestic theatre. His subject is announced as "The Shackles of the World." Moving pictures will be shown preceding the address.

SMOKER TICKETS ARE NOW ON SALE

Tickets for the annual football smoker, to be held at the gymnasium Tuesday, November 18, were placed on sale at the Michigan Union Monday, and several have already been sold. Last year more than 2,000 tickets were disposed of, and the committee expects even a larger sale this year.

No tickets will be sold at the door on account of the enormous crowd at the entrance, and all who expect to attend should procure admission cards at once. If the sale at the Union desk is not sufficiently large, the remaining tickets will be placed in the hands of committeemen later in the week.

The cartoon contest will be continued and the artists will have until noon Monday to submit drawings for the competition. Cartoons received at the Union by Thursday will be used at the mass meeting, if deemed appropriate by the committee. Prizes of $5.00, $3.00 and $1.00 will be given, but all the artists must submit at least three drawings to be eligible for the prizes. All drawings should be made on an 8 x 10 scale, and should be drawn with heavy lines.

The program, consisting of speeches by prominent alumni, faculty members and students, and music by the musical clubs and the Varsity band, has been nearly completed by the committee. Edward Saier, general chairman, has nearly completed the details for smokes, cups and other accessories. At a meeting of the combined committees at the Union this week the remaining details will be fixed.

Library Chimes Furnish Theme For New Song by Earl Moore

Earl V. Moore, '12, has written a new song entitled, "The Chimes," around the theme of the university library chimes. The song is now in the hands of the publishers, and is expected to reach Ann Arbor within a week.

The new song will be featured at a local vaudeville theatre, being played at each performance during the motion pictures. It will also be used at the Sunday afternoon programs at the Union, and at the Friday evening Loungers.

The words will be thrown on the screen at the mass meeting Friday evening, and the author will present the music on the Columbian organ. Edward Kemp leading the audience in the first rendition of the new song.

M. A. C. CONTEST WILL BE CHAMPIONSHIP TILT IN 1914

While Coach Fielding H. Yost admits that a second game between Michigan and M. A. C. is out of the question, he nevertheless has something to say regarding the suggestion, purporting to emanate from Lansing, that the annual battle be staged as a big championship encounter next season.

"If the M. A. C. game is to be staged as a championship battle next year," stated the coach, "M. A. C. should not play freshmen, transfer students and four year men, as she has been doing."

MANY QUAKERS TO SEE BIG CONTEST

"Follow a Winning Team to Ann Arbor," has become the watchword among the Pennsylvania men who are arranging the details for a special train of rooters to come here for Saturday's game.

The committee in charge is conducting the stiffest sort of a campaign for a big Penn rooting section, and is receiving the heartiest support from the undergraduate body.

More than 50 students have already bought tickets on the special train, and with the delegation that will reach this city by other means, the Quaker team promises to be well supported when the stands fill on Saturday.

Medic Graduate Dies in New York City

Dr. Clarence G. Clark, '96M, died in New York city Tuesday. He has been practicing medicine there since his graduation.

COMMERCE CLUB INITIATES 32 UNDERGRADUATE MEMBERS

Commerce club initiated four faculty members, and 32 undergraduates at its initiatory banquet at the Michigan Union last night. J. J. Lechner spoke on "Spring Trips," Roscoe Spencer explained the benefits of the organization to the new men, while Professors E. D. Jones and David Friday spoke on "Organization." Charles A. Culver, of Detroit, editor of the "Little Stick," spoke on "Boobology."

The faculty honorary initiates are: Professors J. W. Glover, and I. L. Sharfman, assistant Professor W. H. Hamilton, and Mr. H. G. Hayes.

Membership of Boat Club Reaches 250

The membership of the Michigan Union boat club has now reached 250, with prospects of more than 300. The membership campaign has been in charge of third ensign, C. S. Blomfield, '16E. Membership is open to all Union members at $1.00 per year. A smoker has been planned for December 11, at the Union. Prof. Henri Hus has been elected to serve with Prof. J. E. Reighard, as the faculty representative on the executive board of the club.

Receive Wireless Message of Wreck

A message was received at the university wireless station yesterday afternoon to the effect that a steamer had grounded at Gull Rock, on Lake Superior. The cabins had washed ashore, and the boat was pounding to pieces on the rocks.

FAMOUS JAPANESE SPEAKER WILL LECTURE HERE SOON

Kiyo Sue Inui, '06, the famous Japanese orator, will speak in Ann Arbor December 8. His subject is, "The Japanese and California." Mr. Inui, while a senior in this university in 1906, won the Northern oratorical League contest. Although this lecture is an extra on the program of the Oratorical association, regular course tickets will admit.

The next lecture before the Oratorical association will be by Jacob August Riis, the well known philanthropist, on November 21. His subject is "My Neighbors."

Dates of Society Debates Changed.

At a meeting yesterday, the oratorical board decided to change the date of the debate between Adelphi and Jeffersonian from November 24 to November 25. The Alpha Nu and Webster societies will debate on November 26.

STUDENTS ARE CHARGED WITH BUYING VOTES

Soph Lit and Frosh Law Politicians Must Face Bribery Charges Before Investigating Committee.

COUNCIL TO TRY TO CLOSE SALOONS EARLY SATURDAY

Resolutions Are Adopted by Student Council at Meeting Last Night.

Charges that money was paid for votes, and that other forms of bribery were used in recent soph lit and frosh law class elections, were brought to the attention of the student council at its regular meeting last night. A committee was appointed to act as a grand jury, to determine whether or not the evidence obtainable would warrant an investigation by the council. If the charges appear to be based on facts, the council will sit in executive session, to consider the charges in detail.

In an attempt to prevent as much disorderly conduct as possible on the night of the Penn game, an effort will be made to close the city saloons at 6:00 o'clock on that day. That ignorance may not be pleaded as an excuse by students who may be accused of such a charge, the council adopted the following resolution:

"That the student council give notice to students through The Michigan Daily, that disorderly conduct will not be tolerated on the night of the Michigan-Pennsylvania game, and that charges preferred against students shall be thoroughly investigated, and summarily dealt with."

A committee was appointed to inquire into the status of the fresh architectural class, which is requesting the privilege of organizing as a class, apart from the remainder of the first year engineers. The matter of giving student council representation to the graduate students who are not affiliated with a regular class, was put in the hands of the council graduate school committee.

COMEDY CLUB TO PICK PLAY SOON

The selection of the play for the annual production of the Comedy club is now in the hands of the Senate committee on dramatics, the club having selected three possibilities from the list presented for consideration.

While nothing definite is known concerning the selection, it is expected that the play this year will be an innovation in campus dramatics. For many years the executive committee of the club has been considering the possibility of presenting a strictly modern play, but this year is the first time the opportunity has been presented.

Another innovation of the play this year is the fact that the production will not be coached by a professional. This means that Bert St. John, who has drilled the last four plays for the club, will not be retained. It is expected that the graduate system will be used by the club. According to this plan the production of the play will be placed entirely in the hands of the older members of the organization, while the newly elected members will fill the parts.

Freshman Traditions Will Be Upheld

A tradition committee, empowered to force the freshmen to observe all campus traditions, will be appointed at the first meeting of the fresh lits to be held at 4:15 o'clock this afternoon in the economics building.

Graduate Writes New Football Song

"Michigan's Men of Steel," a new song, will be put on sale Friday at the University Music House. The author is Roy Dickinson Welch, known as the writer of many "hits." The new song is dedicated to "the men who play, and the men who cheer for Michigan."
