LIT STUDENTS SUSPENDED BY FACULTY'S ACT

Two Rioters Are Expelled While a Third Is Placed Under Surveillance as Penalty.

M'KONE'S OFFENSE OCCURS MONDAY AFTER PENN RIOT.

Future Charges Will Be Taken Care of Later at Special Sessions.

Daniel B. Newton, '15, was suspended for the entire year; Don T. McKone, '17, was suspended for the rest of the semester, and Marsh B. Woodruff, '17, was placed under surveillance by the faculty of the literary department, at a special meeting yesterday afternoon.

Newton, one of the principals in the police investigation, was suspended because of disorderly conduct at the Whitney theatre last Saturday night. Woodruff, who was placed under surveillance with instructions to report to the dean every month, was a companion to Newton before the riot at the theatre. The two men visited the Orient saloon together but later on, Woodruff was able to secure a ticket for the play at the Whitney, and in that way gained legal admittance to the theatre before the riot.

McKone's offense did not occur the night of the celebration, but instead took place last Monday night. The action in his case, was taken because of his being intoxicated, and creating disturbances down town. He pleaded guilty, in the police court, to a charge of disorderly conduct.

No other cases were taken up at the meeting, but should new charges be made, a special session will be called. Action was not taken on the cases of the other men arrested, since they were not students of the lit department.

Senator Smith Will Not Talk Here.

Senator Hoke Smith of Georgia, has refused the invitation of the Oratorical association to lecture here, owing to the press of his duties in Washington.

ARRESTS FOLLOW SALE OF LIQUOR

Lawrence J. Damm and George Schaible, saloon-keepers, were arrested yesterday afternoon on charges of selling intoxicating liquors to students and minors. On arraignment before Justice W. G. Doty, the men waived examination and were bound over to the December term of the circuit court.

The complaint was filed by Chief of Police John T. Kenny, on information furnished by Don T. McKone, '17, who was arrested last Monday night, and convicted of charges of disorderly conduct. Rowland J. Miller, '16, a companion of McKone's at that time, has been subpoenaed as a witness.

Damm was charged with the offense of selling liquor to students this spring, and was acquitted on the grounds of "no cause of action." It is probable that another test will be made of the constitutionality of the law, as both townspeople and university authorities are determined to put a stop to the illegal liquor traffic.

COMMUNICATION.

(The Michigan Daily assumes no responsibility for sentiments expressed in communications.)

Editor, The Michigan Daily:—

A review of the Student Council by one of its former officers.

In keeping with the spirit of the times, the students of Michigan are trying to govern themselves, and manage such things relative to student life that are not strictly academic, and which they can direct as well as the faculty can. Therefore, some years ago there was organized a student council, and the scope of the council's work has been expanding continually. In the first place the councilmen are elected from the upperclasses in proportion to the size of the various classes, and for a term not to exceed three semesters. The councilmen give freely of their time, and antike men on some of the publications they do not get credit toward their graduation. The election system has been criticised because representative men have not always been chosen but the fault lies more with the classes for their selections, than with the council for having incompetent men in its makeup; the system of ethical (non-electioneering) direct primaries has not given universal satisfaction, but no better plan has been proposed.

The first duty of the council is to see that class elections are fair, to see

Y.M.C.A. PROMISES TRIO OF BIG MEN

Three big speakers were announced last night for the next three meetings of the University Y. M. C. A., at the Majestic theater at 6:30 o'clock on Sundays. Dr. Theodore G. Soares of Chicago university will be the speaker of this evening. Dr. Soares is an eminent Spanish professor, who is generally recognized as the best lecturer in his university. His subject is "A Gentleman's Religion."

The speakers who have been secured for the next two meetings are "Ed." Mercer, the famous Eastern athlete, and Graham Taylor of Chicago. Mercer will arrive here on Wednesday, and speak at a number of fraternities during the week. He has just spent a week's engagement at Cornell where he was enthusiastically received.

An innovation will be attempted tonight at the Majestic meeting in the form of motion pictures, beginning at 6:10 o'clock and running until 6:30 o'clock. It is hoped that in this way hundreds of men will come to the evening meeting.

CROSS COUNTRY TEAM TO ENTER BELLE ISLE MEET

Entries have been sent from the University of Michigan for the state cross country meet, slated for Thanksgiving day.

This meet is conducted by the Detroit Y. M. C. A. and will be held over the course on Belle Isle. The Lansing Aggies and the Ypsi Normalites are also entered in this competition, and will send large squads.

The university runners will be in shape for this meet, in spite of their strenuous work against the pick of the East, yesterday, in New York. It is expected that at least twenty men will represent the Yellow and Blue on this occasion.

The run will start from the Island athletic house at 9:15 o'clock, Thanksgiving morning, and will be over a course measuring three and one-half miles.

NEW COMPOSITION HAS CHIME MOTIF

Ragtime, Stunts and Popular Songs, Form Part of Tuesday's Concert.

TICKETS FIND A RAPID SALE.

Earl V. Moore, '12, of the School of Music faculty, writer of "Varsity," and various opera hits, has written a new organ composition especially for the Glee and Mandolin club's popular Thanksgiving concert, Tuesday evening in Hill auditorium. The familiar melody of the library chimes is the most startling feature of the number, which will be played on the echo attachment of the Columbian organ.

Mr. Moore's new piece, it is said, is even more effective than the selection on the echo organ introduced at the Convocation exercises and later at the Penn mass meeting. The tune of the chimes is reproduced in a realistic manner.

Ragtime, stunts and quartet melodies will comprise most of the program at Tuesday's concert. Prof. William Howland, director of the club, has arranged the bill so as to include by far the larger portion of popular and tuneful selections. "The Midnight Sons' Quartet" will supply the major part of the shoulder-shrugging selections.

Tickets for the concert have sold at a rapid rate. Admission cards are now on sale at the book stores, or may be obtained Monday or Tuesday afternoons, from 3:00 to 5:00 o'clock, at the box office in Hill auditorium. Tickets for the two balconies sell at 75 cents, while admission to the main floor is 50 cents.

MICHIGAN MEN INFLUENTIAL IN CONSERVATION CONGRESS

Michigan's delegation, consisting of Professors Filibert Roth and P. S. Loveloy, and Regents J. E. Beal and E. L. Hubbard, to the National Conservation Congress, recently held in Washington, D. C., played a prominent part in the proceedings. Professor Roth delivered an address on "Water Power" and Regent Beal was elected to the committee on resolutions, the most important committee of the organization.

Former students of the forestry department at Michigan gave a luncheon in Washington Thursday noon in honor of the committee.

Daily to Be Printed Thanksgiving.

The Michigan Daily will be printed as usual on both Thanksgiving morning and the day following.

KISS ME KID I NEED THE CREDIT

"Smack, smack," and not at the top step either.

"Umm-um," hear hug, and right on the campus.

No, student reader, this is no exaggeration. All the arts of love, its birth, youth, and blessed evolution are urged upon the students at M. A. C. by Professor-emeritus W. J. Beal, of the botany department.

"Love-making is an art, and should be learned as a part of your curriculum," he said, in a recent address to the students. "Do not wait until you are 35 before you look to the fair sex."

The entire Aggie campus awaits the introduction of the course, awaits it, pen in hand, to enroll.

SENIOR ENGINEERS WIN CHAMPIONSHIP

Senior Medics Beaten by 12 to 7 Score in Final Class Battle.

M'QUEEN PLAYS STELLAR GAME.

The senior engineers won the campus football championship yesterday afternoon by defeating the junior medics 12 to 7, in the second attempt to settle this inter-class honor.

The first quarter was an even battle, and ended with a 0 to 0 score.

In the second quarter the medics had the better of the bollermakers long enough to get the ball on the 10 yard line by a thirty yard run by Wenner and a series of line bucks. From this line Wenner shot a forward pass to Myll who made a difficult catch behind the goal line for a touchdown. Lilley kicked goal.

The second half started with a 20 yard run by McQueen immediately after the kickoff, which placed the ball on the medics' 50 yard line. The engineers' backs began a series of line bucks, putting the ball on the 2 yard line. Twice the medics held, but on the third buck McQueen went over. There was a mixup on the attempt at goal, and the medics fell on the ball before McQueen had a chance to boot. The rest of the quarter was taken up by exchanging punts.

The fourth quarter started out with a continuation of the punting in which the engineers had the better of the doctors, and they started hitting the line on the 40 yard mark. McQueen made 15 through the left side, and then Mueller by a terrific smash tore through the right side for the remaining 25 yards, making the score 12 to 7. McQueen failed to kick goal.

The engineers, immediately after the kickoff, intercepted a forward pass on the 35 yard line. McQueen skirted left end for 12 yards. A forward pass, McQueen to Bassett, landed the ball on the 10 yard mark. McQueen smashed through for five, and Mueller then plunged to the one yard line where the game ended.

UNION FORMULATES SCHEME FOR CHRISTMAS CELEBRATION

A Christmas celebration is being planned by the Michigan Union for December 18. Among the suggestions received are a vaudeville performance and minstrel show. Whatever plans are made for the entertainment, the Union will be thrown open to give students a final opportunity to gather before leaving for the Christmas vacation.

French Play and Cast Not Picked.

That neither the play nor the speakers for the Cercle Francais course of this year have been picked as yet, was announced at the meeting last week. Mr. R. Talamon, instructor in French, who has these matters in charge, has not yet been able to reach a definite decision, but the speakers are well in mind by this time, and it is expected that it will be possible to make a definite announcement in two weeks at the latest. Since the last meeting of the Cercle last week, Mr. Talamon has narrowed his selection for the play down to three.

FIRST READING OF NEW OPERA DEC. 2

Principals to Tryout in Two Weeks. Broilers to Begin After Recess.

MODERN SETTINGS WILL PREVAIL

At a meeting of the Mimes on Thursday, December 2, the Michigan Union opera will receive its first reading. Ray Melton, '13, author, who has been revising the play with Mr. Bert St. John, will be present to interpret various parts of the production. The book has been printed, and will be distributed to members of the club.

The first tryouts for the show will be conducted the week preceding Christmas vacation. Only aspirants for positions as principals will be considered at this time, and the chorus men will be given an opportunity after vacation. There will be about 17 positions open for speaking parts.

The chorus arrangement will undergo several changes in the 1914 performance. Last year three sets of chorus men were used, but in this year's show the number will be cut down, and will be given more elaborate costumes than "broilers" have hitherto been accustomed to. The modern European setting necessitates an entirely different system in chorus costuming, most of the previous operas having had medieval or mythical settings.

There are 14 men working on the melodies, including many of recognized musical ability. All selections must be in the hands of the committee by December 15.

The committee, working on the production, expects to make a good start before Christmas vacation. It is planned to present the opera in March at the Whitney theatre.

Prof. Allen Speaks at Union Today.

Prof. J. R. Allen, recently returned from an extensive trip in Arabia, will be the speaker on the program this afternoon at the Union. Prof. Allen will relate many of his interesting experiences in the far east. Several musical numbers are on the program, and the usual refreshments will be served.

DISTANCE MEN FARE BADLY IN NEW YORK RACE

Cornell Leads Big Field of Crack Eastern Teams With Harvard Second and Massachusetts Tech. Third.

ST. ROWD, CRIMSON CAPTAIN TAKES INDIVIDUAL HONORS

Michigan's Score Totals 335 Against 68 Made by Victors and 92 by Harvard.

(Detroit News Service.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—Handicapped by lack of experience and training, the Michigan cross country team fared badly in the ring of crack eastern competitors here yesterday. Cornell won the annual intercollegiate cross country meet over the Van Courtland Park course, with Harvard a distant second, and Massachusetts Institute of Technology third. The University of Michigan team trailed the field, behind eleven other entrants.

No remarkable times were set up in this meet, and a comparison of records shows the entire field to have been slower than the standard established last year at this time. St. Rowd, captain of the Harvard squad, won the individual honors, in the time of 34:37 min. This mark is 57 seconds behind the record for the course. The Harvard captain had a lead of over a hundred yards on the second man, and he in turn ended thirty yards ahead of the man that finished third.

The victors kept their total down to 68 points, as compared with 92 on the part of Harvard and 105 against Massachusetts Tech. Michigan's total of points was 335, just two more than Columbia with 333.

Coach Rowe did not expect that his proteges would finish in the first division, but was confident that they would make a reputable showing. The outcome was a revelation to all Michigan followers, and to the Michigan runners themselves. From the time

RIOTERS ARE HELD ON GRAVER CHARGE

D. E. Newton, '17, J. S. Green, '17E, I. S. Olson, '16L, W. C. Chipman, and John Carmody, who appeared before Justice J. D. Thomas yesterday morning on charges of creating disturbances in the public streets last Saturday night, were discharged from custody, and immediately rearrested on the charge of riot. On arraignment shortly afterward, before Justice Doty, all but Chipman waived examination and were bound over to the December term of circuit court. Chipman was held to answer to the charge of rioting in the probate court, he being below the age necessary to hold one to the circuit court. Bail to the amount of $250 for each, was furnished by George Wahr and William J. Clarke.

Long before 9:00 o'clock, Justice Thomas' court was thronged with students who wanted to witness the proceedings. But on motion of Prosecutor George Burke, the cases against the five were at once dismissed, and new warrants having been served, everyone adjourned to Justice Doty's court. It is probable that the cases will come up before Judge E. D. Kinne the first Monday of December.

AT OTHER COLLEGES

More than 250 tryouts were present at the track relay at Pennsylvania, called by Coach Orton, this week. Motion pictures of the Olympic games were shown.

Thirty-two students at the University of Illinois were dismissed from the university for unsatisfactory work during the past semester.

Cornell's new course in Eugenics was opened this week by Prof. A. W. Gilbert. The course is given with a view to educating the public, and is in no sense sensational nor technical.

Williams College is seriously considering the adoption of the point system for participation in campus activities.

A junior woman student at Wisconsin has organized a class to teach the new dances to the men and women of the faculty. The younger members of the faculty are said to be especially interested in the scheme.

CAMPUS IN BRIEF

—Selden S. Dickinson, '13-'15L, and J. H. Wilkins, '14, with 3,015 points were high men in the round of the Union bridge tournament played last night. The tournament will be continued for two or three Friday nights longer, at which time the high men in total number of points will be awarded the prize.

—Blanks for the international wireless test have been sent by the British Association for the Advancement of Science to Mr. H. S. Sheppard, of the electrical engineering department. The papers will be used for reports in the wireless test which will be held during this year. The Michigan radio station will cooperate with other stations throughout the world.

—The banquet of the Illinois club, held at the Union last night was attended by 50 men. A varied program was offered, the principal speaker being Prof. E. C. Goddard, of the law department, and a former resident of the state of Illinois. M. F. Dunne, '17, son of the governor of Illinois, delivered a message from his father, in which the latter expressed his regret at being unable to attend the banquet as had been planned. Talks were also given by H. D. Parker, '16L, president of the club, S. L. Adelsdorf, '14, and W. W. Schroeder, '14. Music was furnished by Bruce Bromley, '14, who substituted for G. M. Moritz, '15, as the latter was unable to attend.

—Senior engineers collected $38 in their first campaign for regular class dues yesterday. About $80 is still outstanding, and it is planned to collect the most of this at the regular monthly assembly periods, when opportunity will be given to pay.

—Dr. George Elliott will speak on "Faith and Knowledge" under the auspices of the Wesleyan Guild at the Methodist Episcopal church Sunday evening. Dr. Elliott is well known over Michigan as a preacher and lecturer.

—Several electrical engineers have already signified their desire to take a trip during spring vacation to visit some of the larger cities. A vote will decide whether the trip will be made to the east or west. All who are interested in the project may sign the bulletin board on the second floor of the engineering building or notify W. L. Bice, '14E.

—The Forestry club held its annual dance on Friday evening, February 27, at the Packard academy. It will be limited to 40 couples.

—Tryouts for Boser's "Ulima," the annual production of the Deutscher Verein, will be held next week from Tuesday to Friday in room 305 University hall. The play will be staged in the middle of April. Aspirants may tryout on Tuesday from 3:00 to 4:00 o'clock, Wednesday and Thursday from 5:00 to 6:00 o'clock, or Friday from 2:00 to 5:00 o'clock.

—Prof. G. A. Brodie Brockwell, of McGill University, lectured on "The Espousals of Isaac and Rebekah" at Memorial hall yesterday afternoon, at which time he made known some interesting facts in anthropology and threw some light on the new method of tracing the lineage of the Semites.

—Michigamua members will go to Detroit this afternoon to attend a banquet which will be held at the Tuller hotel Saturday evening at 6:30 o'clock. The Detroit alumni members of the society will entertain.
