BELGIUM CHILDREN CLOTHED BY ANN ARBOR RED CROSS

Clothing for children among the refugees in Belgium and France constitutes a large share of the shipments made each month by the Ann Arbor Red Cross.

The funds allowed for this purpose are sufficient only to purchase outing-flannel for the children's dresses, and the organization desires donations of old clothing especially woolen garments, to remake. Mrs. Eugene Gregory, 820 S. University ave., will receive any materials that University women are willing to contribute.

These shipments are sent directly, not through the general headquarters, the work being outside of the regular assignments.

PAUL H. DEKRUIF GOES TO JOIN MEDICAL FORCES IN FRANCE

Capt. Paul H. DeKruif, former assistant professor of bacteriology, has sailed for France where he will be engaged in the laboratory section of the American Medical force in Paris.

Captain DeKruif was the assistant of Frederick G. Novy, professor of bacteriology, before he received his captaincy.

Kaiser's Son Writes War Book

Amsterdam, Feb. 13—Prince Adalbert of Prussia, third son of the German Emporer, is the author of a new book entitled "With My Battalion in the Front Line Trenches." It deals with his experiences as commander of German marines on the coast of Flanders near Zeebrugge.

ALASKA REINDEER MEAT MAY APPEAR ON MARKET

EXPLOITATION ATTEMPTED TO SAVE SUPPLY OF BEEF

New York, Feb. 13.—The exploiting of reindeer meat, particularly on the Pacific coast, will be undertaken on a large scale this season, in the campaign to save beef for shipment abroad. Alaska will be able to furnish the larger part of the meat required by the cities of the Pacific coast, it is believed, and efforts are being made to encourage the Alaskan reindeer industry, which has grown enormously the last few years.

Gives Indians Vocation

"The industry has given the Alaskan Indian a vocation and made many of them prosperous," says an official bulletin. "The total valuation of the herds in June, 1916, was $2,232,843.

"Until recent years the industry has been confined to the natives and Laplanders. White men have organized a company at Nome and now have several thousand deer. Reindeer fairs are held annually, as cattle shows are in the States."

Mexico Bars Tubercular Cattle

Mexico City, Feb. 13—The government has decided to enforce strictly measures to prevent the importation into Mexico from the United States of tubercular cattle. It is asserted that the bringing in of diseased cattle from north of the Rio Grande, where the American meat inspection service makes their slaughter impossible, has caused epidemics in Mexico.

Arcade—Clara Kimball Young in "Magda". Christie Comedy, "Love and Locksmith".

AT THE GARRICK

"The Man Who Came Back", one of the most interesting and gripping dramas to visit Detroit in several seasons, will remain over at the Garrick during the coming week.

John Fleming Wilson possesses the peculiar faculty of weaving into his stories red-blooded life, and heart interest, and in its adaption to the stage the spirit of the thing has remained unchanged. Though in one scene the play is frankly sensational, it is not gruesome or depressing and there is a clean cut note of comedy ever present.

"The Man Who Came Back" tells the story of a young man who has been brought up in luxury until his father finally tires of his idleness and cuts him adrift without a cent. The boy is sent to San Francisco where he meets a cabaret singer, the beautiful Marcelle. The next scene takes place in an opium den in Shanghai where he again meets Marcelle who has gone down the ladder, via drink and opium. The remaining two scenes are devoted to his regeneration, not one of heorics, and the play ends happily. Mary Nash is very charming in the role of Marcelle.

AT THE WHITNEY

"The Marriage Question", which comes to the Whitney on Sunday, Feb. 17, is a novelty play that discusses the marriage question from every angle. The play is the work of Ralph Kettering and Lorin Howard.

The production is under the direction of Rowland and Howard, who will be remembered as the producers of "Which Shall I Marry?", and a "Daughter of the Sun."

AT THE ARCADE.

"Magda", featuring Clara Kimball Young, to be shown at The Arcade today, is an adaptation of Herman Sudermann's drama. This play had a successful run at the Rialta theater, New York, where the feature was decidedly well received. Edward Kimball, Miss Young's own father, plays the part of her father.

HENRY FORD'S LIBEL SUIT TO BE TRIED IN DETROIT

Detroit, Feb. 13.—Henry Ford's $1,000,000 libel suit against the Chicago Tribune will be tried in his own bailiwick.

The Tribune had tried to dismiss the proceedings in Wayne county because of alleged improper service of process upon the defendant, but the petition was denied by Judge Willis S. Perkins, of Grand Rapids, in an opinion filed in the county clerk's office here.

SCHOOL OF TELEGRAPHY NOW LOCATED IN ARCADE

AFTERNOON CLASS ORGANIZED FOR STUDENTS JUST ENROLLING

The Michigan School of Telegraphy has opened its offices and class rooms at 238 Nickels' Arcade for the 30 students who have elected the operators' course now being conducted. Twelve sets of telegraph instruments have been installed, and the first class has been practicing the Morse code for about a week.

Night and Day Classes

Mr. H. C. Baumgardner, manager of the local Western Union office, is in charge of the school. He is assisted by Mr. George Sweet, an experienced operator who was manager of the Western Union for 20 years. A night class meets from 7:30 to 10 o'clock five days each week. The enrollment in this section has been closed because of the large number wishing to take the work at this time. A new day class meeting from 4 to 6 o'clock five days a week is now being organized. An instructor will be at the offices every afternoon this week to take enrollments of new students. The tuition fee is $35 for the eight months course of instruction. The day class will be limited to 20, and the list will probably be filled before Sunday.

More Instruments Coming

More instruments have been ordered but the government is securing every available one, and the school has had some difficulty in securing the proper sets. Another shipment is expected soon, however. The classes are completely equipped at present, but with the added enrollment more sets will be needed. Two instructors are in charge of the sessions of each class.

Telegraph operators are at a premium in the United States army and other government service, as well as in the commercial companies. The signal corps will gladly accept graduates of the course here, and they will probably be given the rank of sergeant upon enlisting. The Western Union district commercial superintendent, Mr. E. Boening, has expressed his approval of the school, and the company is partially supervising the work.

CITY MAY INSTALL EXTRA DRAINS TO FORESTALL FLOOD

In order to safeguard the city from floods such as those resulting from Tuesday's thaw, the city drain officers have put many men to work thawing out sewers about the city and preparing for the next thaw. The need for extra storm drains has been recognized and the council will probably take action on the matter at an early date. No great damage has as yet been reported. It is believed at the drain office that considerable damage would have resulted had not the temperature lowered late Tuesday afternoon.

CAPTAIN PULLINGER RELATES EXPERIENCES AT THE FRONT

Capt. B. W. Pullinger, of the 46th battalion, Canadian infantry, related his experiences on the western front in Belgium and France at the monthly luncheon, given yesterday, by the U. of M. club of Detroit at the Board of Commerce.

During his two years of service at the front, Captain Pullinger participated in a number of now famous battles, among them the Somme, Vimy Ridge, and Ypres.

ARMY OFFICERS' UNIFORMS

Our concern was the first to enter the army officers' uniform business in the city, with the result that our customers were in a position to obtain first class Materials, perfect fitting garments and prompt service.

Like every other detail of men's wear, there are all kinds of military garments, but we are selling only the best, using only the most reputable materials, and charging reasonable prices for uniforms far above the average.

You who will be commissioned as officers in the army, will find our service so arranged, that after your initial order we will be able to send you garments any place in the United States or abroad if necessary.
