KERR FLAYS TURK AS RETARDER OF WORLD PROGRESS

SECRETARY TO LLOYD GEORGE SAYS ALLIED ACTION SAVED EUROPE

SEES MODERN RUSSIA AS GREAT MILITARY POWER

Declares Nations Must Face Problem of Readjustment by Other Means Than War

Speaking before a crowded auditorium in the Law building yesterday afternoon on "Some Present International Problems" the Hon. Philip Henry Kerr, secretary to ex-Premier David Lloyd George during the world war, outlined the events of international politics during the past eight years which have led up to the present political situation.

He spoke briefly on the causes of the world war and pointed conclusively that the recent happenings in the Near East and Europe are but inevitable results of the war.

"In regard to the Near East situation," he said, "I am firmly of the opinion that it would be wrong, even to consider the notion of allowing the Turkish forces to remain in control of the situation there. There is no doubt, but that the Kemalist forces might have garnered tremendous powers if they had been allowed to remain in the position on the Dardanelles and the Bosphorus which they had gained, if the allied powers had not stepped in to hinder further disaster and destruction.

Destruction Follows Turks

"Wherever the Turk has gone, devastation has immediately followed. When the Turkish forces under Kemal Pasha marched upon the city of Smyrna the inhabitants fled, knowing full well what to expect. I know of no worse fate that could befall Europe than that the Kemalist forces be allowed to remain in Thrace. It would invoke destruction and massacre worse than occured in Smyrna, would begin a process of disintegration and would intensify economic destruction."

Leaving the Near East question Hon. Kerr took up the problem of Russia.

"Russia, a country of 140 million people, is potentially the greatest military power in the world," said the ex-secretary. "It is a nation organized on a military basis on extreme autocracy. What is going to happen to Russia is a question which will be settled in the near future."

Nations Must Settle Without War

In stirring words the former secretary to Lloyd George said that "political re-adjustment is the greatest problem of the world, but if such adjustment ever comes up before a great conference of world powers the causes of war will have to be threshed out in detail. It will be a great day when international disputes will be settled by other means than war."

In concluding Hon. Kerr spoke of the reasons why nations fail to agree. "It is the lack of international agency in being about unity," he said. "The fundamental reason why nations ally is to secure safety for themselves and not to insure the peace of the world. When the nations discover how law can be made effective over the entire world and not only over a nation, then and only then will wars be eliminated."

"The people of the United States segregated as they are and free from the traditions that burden Europe will be able to approach the problem with clear minds."

Hon. Kerr will deliver a lecture at 7:30 o'clock this morning in room 116 of the general library. He has not announced his subject for this lecture but it is expected to be relative to some current international problem.

Mr. Kerr's yesterday afternoon's address to a crowded auditorium in the Law building and was accorded an ovation.

The speech this morning will be for the benefit of the members of the Journal club, and the graduate students and teaching staff of the history and political science departments, but all others interested are invited to attend.

KERR SEES CHANGE IN BRITON POLICY

Will Not Affect United States and British Relations, Claims Secretary

PREDICTS EARLY RETURN OF LLOYD GEORGE TO ACTIVITY

(By Frederic G. Tebaus)

Recent political disasters in England, the death blow of the coalition at the hands of the Conservatives, and the resignation of Premier Lloyd George will have no detrimental or evil effects on the United States" is the view expressed by the Hon. Philip Henry Kerr, former secretary of Lloyd George, yesterday afternoon. "Beyond the inspectement of the coming of the loan fund commission to this country, I can see no bad influence which might grow out of the recent occurrences in British politics. The feeling of England toward the United States, regardless of party, is one of friendship," Hon. Kerr emphatically stated.

When asked what were the causes leading up to the breaking up of the coalition government, Mr. Kerr said, "dissatisfaction has been growing among the Conservatives for some time. They disliked Lloyd George's Irish policy, did not agree with his policy in India and his foreign program was entirely distasteful to them. "I do not think it was dislike for the premier which caused the non-support of Austin Chamberlin, governmental leader in the house of commons, at the meeting of the Conservative members of the house. This is what caused the resignation of Lloyd George, but it was loyalty to party that prevailed over personal liking that caused the overwhelming vote at the meeting."

In answer to the question "What changes in policy are the new ministry likely to introduce," Hon. Kerr had little to say but stated that he did not expect to see much change in the form of government with the possible exception of the foreign policy. The Hon. Andrew Bonar Law, who has been asked by the king to form a new government, when speaking before the Carlton club indicated that he was in favor of maintaining the independence of the Conservative party. Possibly this may mean some changes in the new government."

TO MAIL ILLINOIS TICKETS MONDAY

Student seats for the Illinois-Michigan game here next Saturday will be sent out Monday and Tuesday of next week. At the present time mail orders for alumni are being filled out in the West stand, as all seats in the South and North stands have been disposed of. Alumni tickets are being sent out every day.

Tickets for the Wisconsin game are selling rapidly and the Athletic association urges that all students who have not sent in their applications do so at once, as few seats remain.

PROTEST MICHIGAN FOOTBALL PLAYERS

Report States Ohio State Officials Question Eligibility of Several Men

NO FOUNDATION FOR RUMOR GIVEN BY AUTHORITIES

(By Associated Press)

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 20.—Ohio State university has protested the eligibility of certain players on the University of Michigan football eleven, it was learned here today. The matter has been referred to Commissioner Griffith of the Big Ten conference but in his absence from the city neither the names of the players involved nor other details were available today.

Columbus, Oct. 20.—Athletic officials of both Ohio State and Michigan tonight denied any knowledge of the filing of a protest on the eligibility of certain Michigan players as reported from the Chicago office of commissioner Griffith of the Western Conference. The protest was said to have been filed by Ohio State.

Bloomington, Ill., Oct. 20.—Interviewed by a representative of the Associated Press Major Griffith said, "the matter is too delicate for me to comment upon. I have nothing to say."

At midnight Friday a special call to the Associated Press in Detroit and to Detroit newspapers resulted in the information that no verification of the report that Ohio State officials had entered a protest with Conference authorities concerning the eligibility of Michigan football players.

Further developments, should there be any, will be announced either in the football extra this afternoon or in Sunday's issue of The Daily.

FLOCKS OF FLIVVERS BEAR STUDENTS OVER ROUTE TO COLUMBUS

Automobiles of every make and description carrying hundreds of hilarious students to Columbus formed an unending stream down Main street which continued throughout Friday afternoon and evening. Led by a vanguard of some 20 "fivvers" gaily bedecked in maize and blue and large block "M's, this strange parade made its way throughout the town. Many bore glaring quotations such as "Welch the Buckeyes," while still others hail final scores on their sides ranging from 6 to 0 to as high as 40 to 0 and all with Michigan on the big end.

One truck, several motorcycles and one bicycle all decorated with maize and blue bunting and large Michigan banners were seen traveling in the general direction of Columbus. Six special trains from Ann Arbor and several from Detroit carried thousands of supporters to the game last night and it is rumored that one party of students will make the trip by aeroplane. In fact everything in the way of vehicles, with the exception of horses and rigs, was made use of in the transportation of students to Columbus.

Several fraternities arranged to race their most promising "fivvers" to the scene of battle, all of which will add to the general excitement of the trip.

GRID GRAPH WILL FOLLOW GAME HERE

Arrangements have been completed for the reproduction of the Michigan-Ohio game this afternoon at Hill auditorium by means of the electric scoreboard which has been installed by the Alumni Association. Twenty per cent of the proceeds from the ticket sale will go to the fund for the Women's League building.

The grid graph was first demonstrated in Ann Arbor last Saturday when the play by play reports of the Vanderbilt game were worked out on the proceboard. A crowd of more than 3,000 was present to view the game as replayed on the "grid". Each play was reproduced immediately after the corresponding play took place at Nashville.

Tickets are on sale for 50 cents at Wahr's and Graham's bookstores and Harbor gymnasium.

IRISH TREATY TO BE RATIFIED SOON

Law, New British Leader, Will Advise King to Dissolve Parliament

PRESENT BODY MAY DECIDE QUESTION ON NOVEMBER 14

London, Oct. 20.—In the still high spirits of political situation tonight only two facts stood out definite: that there would be almost immediately a general election and that parliamentary ratification of the Irish constitution is certainly assured.

Andrew Bonar Law, who is to lead the new government which will take the place of that of David Lloyd George, in a message to the evening newspaper confirmed his intention to advise King George immediately to dissolve parliament and added that this would give ample time to deal with the Irish legislation.

He did not indicate however whether the present parliament would reassemble according to schedule on Nov. 14 to deal with the Irish question or whether general election would be held immediately, and the Irish legislation left to the new parliament. Either plan would be practical. The only point then is that the ratification of the Irish treaty must be effected before December 6.

LIBRARIANS OF STATE WILL MEET NEXT WEEK

MICHIGAN ASSOCIATION TO CONVENE IN FLINT TUESDAY

Flint, Oct. 20.—Legislation needed in Michigan to aid the libraries of the state will be the chief topic discussed at the annual meeting of the Michigan Library Association, to be held here Tuesday and Wednesday, October 24 and 25.

Michigan is the only state in the section of the country that, as a state, fails to extend aid to the libraries within its borders, according to a statement by Flora B. Roberts of Kalamazoo, president of the Michigan Association. Monetary aid is neither sought nor desired, she said, but supervisory and advisory aid is needed seriously.

M. S. Dudgeon, librarian of the Milwaukee public library, and formerly secretary of the Wisconsin Library Commission, will be one of the leading speakers, discussing "The State's Opportunities for Service Through Libraries."

The opening meeting Tuesday afternoon will be given over to a discussion of "School and County Libraries and Penal Finds," in which the legal phases of this subject will be brought out. W. L. Coffey of the state department of Public Instruction at Lansing will be one of the speakers.

Admiral Schroeder Dies

Washington, Oct. 20.—Rear-Admiral Seaton Schroeder, retired, from 1909 to 1913 commander of the Atlantic fleet, died at the naval hospital yesterday after an illness which began several weeks ago at his summer home in Jamestown, R. I. He was 73 years old.

MICHIGAN WARRIORS PRIMED FOR BATTLE; 16,000 GREET TEAM

YOST AND FIGHTING SPIRIT OF VARSITY RELIED ON FOR VICTORY

OHIO DEPENDING ON WILCE FOR STRATEGY

State Expected to Resort to Aerial Attack; Kipke Workman to Fight Kicking Duel

Two teams carried along to the height of their power, ready to make a last desperate stand, staking all on victory and caring nothing for later games will face each other at 2 o'clock Central time this afternoon in the dedication game of the new $1,500,000 Ohio stadium at Columbus, when Wolverine and Buckeye engage in their annual grid encounter.

Some 16,000 Michigan rooters, student and alumni, will be on hand when the opening whistle sounds to cheer their favorites on. Since Thursday night the stream of students leaving Ann Arbor has been continuous, freight trains, motor cars, and mere "lizzies" furnishing transportation for hosands. Special trains leaving last night and several more this morning will help swell the multitude which is today descending on Columbus from all sides to make the greatest gathering ever present at an athletic event in the Middle West.

Lineups Kept Secret

With the hour of battle almost at hand, neither coach has as yet made a statement as to the probable lineups of the game. No definite line-up has been given out by either, although Yost has announced that but one change in the Michigan front will be made from the way it started the game against Vanderbilt last week. Wilce remains silent as to his team's chances, figuring that nothing said is nothing to retract Saturday night.

The general feeling in Columbus seems to be that Michigan on paper is stronger than the Buckeye aggregation but Wilce is credited with the statement that football games are not won on paper. However, the Scarlet and Grey adherents are counting on some unknown power to come to their aid at the last moment and change a hopeless cause into sure victory. They figure that the cunning Wilce has something up his sleeve and that Michigan is due for another outsmarting.

Michigan supporters on the other hand are not at all confident of victory. The setback received at Nashville last week when the supposedly weaker Vanderbilt eleven held the Yostmen to a scoreless tie has served to kill any overconfidence that might have been evident in the Wolverine camp under other circumstances. A general reliance on Yost and the traditional fighting spirit of the Varsity is about the main hope that is being

DON'T FRET!

Even if you are miles from Columbus today, you will learn of Michigan's victory almost as soon as those who saw the game, for the Daily will issue its first extra of the year this afternoon, in which there will be a complete play by play account of the game, received by special leased wire direct from the Ohio stadium. With the help of the new press, the extra staff expects to break all records in getting the edition onto the streets immediately after the game has ended.

Watch for It.

carried to Columbus by the Ann Arbor rooters.

Nothing in the way of pessimistic coming from an enemy camp has served to cause as much feeling locally as the statements from Columbus that Ohio State was expected to win by outfighting and outspeeding the Wolverines.

The general feeling on the campus is that a Michigan team outfought is something unknown in a big game, and that whether the outcome of the game Ohio afternoon the Varsity will be fighting until the last play is finished.

On the here comman of what depends there is little to choose between the teams as they enter the game. Michigan is conceded a battery running attack than Wilce has been able to develop, possesses a pair of good kicking ends, and has shown in Sheboi and Kipke, has a line made up of four veterans and three sophomores playing their first big game, a line as yet untried as a unit under fire but possessing great potential strength, but a woeful weakness against the forward pass attack unless great improvement has been made in the past week—that is Michigan.

Buck Teams to Use Air Route

Ohio State is a problem as far as telling what she will be able to do as opposed to an opponent of the first flight is concerned. More than half of her linemen are new to Conference football, while Isabel and Workman behind the line are the only men who have ever done anything of note against Michigan in the past. An overland attack of dashing bullmoss is expected from the Buckeyes, an attack that will mix short passes, long passes, and just passes with a rapidity designed to upset the most perfect defense.

GRADUATION OF HUGE STADIUM WILL OPEN TODAY'S TILT

PRES. THOMPSON OF OHIO CHIEF SPEAKER

Representatives of All Conference Schools to Hoist Banners; Michigan First

Simple yet impressive ceremonies have been planned for the dedication of the new Ohio State football stadium at Columbus at 1 o'clock this afternoon. At that hour the dedicatory procession will file onto the field, coming from the open end and will parade along the east grandstand to the opposite stand where it will wheel around and march back to the center of the field to the flag pole.

The members will group themselves around the pole and there the representatives of the Western Conference universities will raise the pennants of their respective institutions. Michigan's banner will be the first to be hoisted. They will come Chicago, Illinois, Iowa, Indiana, Minnesota, Northwestern, Purdue, Wisconsin, and Ohio State in the order named.

14 Units In Line

The address of the day, dedicating the stadium, will then be delivered by Dr. William Oxley Thompson, president of Ohio State university. This will be followed by the four minute "Star Spangled Banner" and a salvo of the colors.

The procession itself will be divided into 14 distinct units. Leading these will be Miss Eloise Plowman, student at O. S. U., who has been chosen as the Stadium Girl. She will carry the colors. Following Miss Plowman will come President Thompson, of Ohio State; President Marion L. Burton, of Michigan; Dr. Charles A. Greenleaf, of the state of Michigan, and Gov. H. L. Davis, of the state of Ohio, and members of the two state staffs.

Faculty to March

The third group will be composed of seven trustees of Ohio State university. Next will be Major J. J. Thomas, of Columbus, and his entire architect household closely following Major Thomas will march Col. Edward Orton, president of the Columbus Chamber of Commerce, and his staff. The faculty of Ohio State university, representing the pedagogical arts, the 11 colleges, will be next in line.

This seven will be composed of the officers of the Ohio State University association in unit eight there will be Miss Christine Vorres, president of the Women's Student council, and J. W. Geiger, president of the Men's Student council. Following these two the athletic board will march, and then the band will be the stadium escort to committee.

ATTY. GENERAL URGES PRESS TO RESPECT LAW

THINKS GOVERNMENT REGULATION OF NEWSPAPERS MAY BE NECESSARY

(By Associated Press)

Chicago, Oct. 20.—No organization or combination of organizations, no matter what their pretended purpose, can be above the law," Attorney General Daugherty declared in an address before the annual convention of audit bureaus of circulations here tonight. "We must be one people and one nation, and the American union."

The Attorney General declared that what to the home school and church the newspaper has the greatest power for good or evil.

"Whenever a newspaper ridicules a law, plays upon a policy of contempt for law and its enforcement and in its news and editorial columns encourages law breaking that paper is doing more to destroy American institutions than a federal judge can do to maintain them," he asserted.

Declaring the public press on the whole to be fair and honest, the attorney general concluded, "the man in public life who is possessed of vision and realizes his responsibility to government would favor legislation of the public press by law but it is because that the tone of the press must not be dead to foster discontent in our government."

ELECTRIC SCORE BOARD WILL SHOW OHIO GAME

WOMAN'S LEAGUE GIVES CHARGE OF TICKET SALE WHICH OPENS TOMORROW

Returns from the Michigan-Ohio State game next Saturday will be shown in Hill auditorium on the grid graph in a similar manner as was the Vanderbilt game last week, was the announcement made by Fred A. Leidy, '09, of the Alumni association, last night.

The ticket sale, which is being handled entirely by the Women's league, will begin tomorrow and students may procure their seats now at the Union, Alumni association, Hutton's, Wahr's, Graham's, or at Barbour gymnasium.

A slight raise has been made in the admission price in order to enable the association to cover all expenses of the board, operators and special wire. Tickets will be sold for 50 cents with a share of the proceeds going to the Women's league.

The Alumni association is well pleased with the showing made by the board last Saturday. If the grid graph proves itself useful in the future it will be bought by the association and kept at the University to be used at all of Michigan's outside games.

SHUTER OUTLINES RULES TO POSTER CONTESTANTS

DIRECTOR ALSO REQUESTS COMIC ROLE TRYOUTS FOR 1923 OPERA

Contestants in the 1923 Michigan Union opera, "In and Out," poster competition met with Mr. R. Mortimer Shuter, director of the opera, and Sidney Sarasohn, '23, yesterday afternoon at the Mimes theater. Rules were explained to the men present and the new production outlined for them.

All posters must be submitted by Oct. 30, must be approximately 19 by 14 inches in size, and must include no more than three colors. At the end of the period assigned, all the posters will be judged by a committee, to be appointed, which will include Mr. Shuter, and Frank Cady, '24S, general chairman of this year's opera, and two or three other men.

The director of the opera is finding some difficulty in obtaining a man to play the part of the maid, a comic role, in the new production. This role resembles the one played by May Yokes in the original production of "The Red," and requires a man who will fit well into the part. Men who wish to try out for this part in the opera cast should report to Mr. Shuter at the theater as soon as possible.
