THE WEATHER

Prevailing north and south winds.

The Summer

Michigan Daily

MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

VOL. X, No. 9. ANN ARBOR, MICHIGAN, WEDNESDAY, JLUY 3, 1929 PRICE FIVE CENTS

INTELLECTS SHOULD READ PRIZE NOVELS SAYS PROF. SCHINZ

PROFESSOR ALBERT SCHINZ ADVOCATES SELECTIONS OF ACADEMIES

120 TO CHOOSE FROM

Printing Houses Have Complicated Matters by Flooding Market With Countless Books

The chief difficulty in attempting to read the contemporary French novel intelligently is, in the opinion of Professor Albert Schinz, of the University of Pennsylvania, that of choosing just what to read.

In his lecture, "The Contemporary Novel in France," at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon in Natural Science auditorium, Professor Schinz stressed this point and remarked that printing houses were publishing so many novels that choosing only what was worth while in this field was becoming a real problem.

As an aid for selection Professor Schinz suggested his own method for meeting this difficulty. He reads mostly those books which have been awarded prizes by the various French academies and the literary societies. Inasmuch as there are about 1120 of these, the problem is very greatly simplified and he has found that over 60 per cent of those novels which have been awarded prizes are read and enjoy great popularity even as late as 10 years after the date of the original publication.

Awards for Merit

In particular there are the French Academy, The Concourt Academy, and the Prix Femina which gives awards for literary merit. The Goncourt and the Femina prizes, said Schinz, work in opposition to each other. They both award prizes on the same day, and the Goncourt prize is restricted to men only, where as the Prix Femina will honor both men and women. The French Academy so far has awarded prizes to only two women.

In his lecture Professor Schinz divided the Contemporary novel into two groups, the continuation of the pre-war tendencies and the newer tendencies.

SIMPSON HURT IN DENVER TRYOUTS

(By Associated Press)

DENVER, Colorado, July 2.—George Simpson, Ohio State sprinter and holder of the unofficial world's record of 9.4 seconds for the 100 yard dash, sprained a tendon in his right leg while practicing at the Denver University stadium this afternoon.

His coach, Dr. Frank Castleman, said the sprinter would probably be withdrawn from the National Track and Field championships that are to be run off her Thursday.

Simpson's injury is similar to the one he recently received at the Big Ten meet in Chicago. Today's workout was the first that he has had since this meet. The Ohio State sprinter came here to defend his title of the fastest human in the world. The inability of Simpson to run will leave the honor open to Bracey of Texas, and Tolan of Michigan. The failure of Simpson to compete will detract much in the way of sensation.

Music School Offers Concerts By Faculty

For those who enjoy the classical type of music, the School of Music is offering six more Faculty Concerts. These recitals will take place every Tuesday evening at auditorium starting at 8 o'clock.

Although the program has not been definitely fixed, the artists for these concerts are the outstanding members of the faculty in the School of Music and students who have shown unusual talent with much promise of future greatness.

Education Professors To Meet At Mackinac

Professor Cleo Murtland and Professor George E. Myers, both of the faculty of the education school, will be among the principal speakers at the national convention of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs which is to be held Thursday, July 11, at Mackinac Island.

Professor Murtland will discuss the problem of vocational guidance in the smaller cities, and Professor Myers will take the same subject as applied to the rural community.

As a result of the increased attention recently given by educators to the vocational guidance problem, various professional and business associations have begun a study of the subject, as evidenced by the study being done by the Federation of guidance as practiced in typical communities.

Y M C A TO SPONSOR TALK BY DR. FORRER

Minister From Detroit Will Speak at Lydia Mendelssohn Theater on Sunday Night

PUBLIC INVITED TO COME

Continuing their policy of the regular session, the Student Christian Association is sponsoring a convocation in the Lydia Mendelssohn theater Sunday night, July 21. The speaker for the evening will be Dr. Samuel Forrer.

Dr. Forrer is minister of the Jefferson Avenue Presbyterian church of Detroit. Dr. Forrer is an excellent speaker and is well known throughout the country.

The Student Christian Association has secured many speakers for their convocations of the fall and winter season. Such famous speakers as Dr. William Lyon Phelps, Bishop McConnell, Dr. Charles Gilkey, Miss Jane Addams, and George Sherwood Eddy have come to Ann Arbor on the invitation of the Student Christian Association in the last few years.

These convocations are arranged primarily for the benefit of those attending the University but in the past it has been the custom to make these speeches open to the public, so unless an announcement to the contrary appears this policy will be continued this summer.

All students are invited to attend this, the first of two to be held this summer. There will be music as well as the message by Dr. Forrer.

The Student Christian Association is continuing this work into the Summer Session is following its policy of really assisting the student body in attaining a high set of ideals.

Galsworthy's 'Escape' To Open Run Tonight

Opening their second week of plays for the summer season, Play Production's Repertory players will present John Galsworthy's notable success, "Escape," at 8:15 o'clock tonight in the Lydia Mendelssohn theater in the League building. Performances will be given at the same hour each night during the remainder of the week.

This production will be the first of a number which are to be directed by Prof. Chester M. Wallace, eminent drama coach from the Carnegie Institute of Technology, Pittsburgh. This school has one of the foremost drama courses in the country.

"Escape" met with its first success in London, remaining on the boards there for more than a year. Later it scored a similar success in New York. The Ann Arbor presentation will be one of the first in this country outside of New York.

The play, divided into nine episodes, opens in Hyde park, London. Although there are some thirty persons in the cast, only one character connects the various scenes which portray the reaction of different groups of society to an escaped convict.

Chicago Flyers To Leave Soon On Round Trip Ocean Venture

Bob Gast, left, and Parker (Shorty) Cramer will direct the destinies of the Sikorsky amphibian plane, the "Untin" Bowler, seen below, which is scheduled for a round trip flight of the Atlantic from Chicago to Berlin via north-circle route and then back via Warsaw, Stockholm, Bergen and then over the same course as the eastward route. The Chicago flyers plan to leave late this week on their daring venture.

DORMITORY PLANS BEING RE-DRAWN

Plans for the new women's dormitory to be erected on Observatory road are now being re-drawn by the architects Malcomson and Higginbotham, Detroit, so as to provide for changes in construction recently recommended. It is expected that the final plans will be completed early in August, after which bids will be called for. If the bids received are within the estimates, construction will begin between the first and the fifteenth of September.

The new dormitory which will house more than 430 students will face Palmer field, the women's athlet grounds. The observatory entrance is to be made attractive since this is the only automobile approach to the building.

Part of the land which the new building will occupy was purchased by a group of Detroit alumni, headed by Mason Rumney, to supplement the tract already obtained by the Regents. The dormitory will cost approximately $995,000.

DEAN WELLS SEES IMPORTANT NEED

Agnes E. Wells, dean of women at Indiana university, in speaking to the Women's Education club Monday night at the League, told of the cooperative work of the American Association of University Women with the international organization in building up funds for fellowships for women who have accomplished definite research work.

She emphasized the importance of giving more attention to fellowships and less to scholarships, since these would benefit a more highly selected group. The association has set $1,000,000 for its goal, one-half to be used in the international fund and one half in this country.

Through these fellowships it is hoped that a better international understanding may be brought about. The three outstanding characteristics which one must possess to be considered for one of these fellowships are: power to receive new impressions, imagination, and persistence in overcoming difficulties.

First Of Faculty Concerts Proves Most Entertaining

A Review By William J Gorman

Before a large crowd in Hill Auditorium last night, Mabel Ross Rhead, pianist, and Kathryn Gutekunst, contralto, gave one of the most entertaining concerts of the whole faculty series this year.

Mrs. Rhead opened the concert with the "Etudes Symphoniques" of Schumann. This is one of the finest sets of variations in all piano literature; Schumann, following the later Beethoven style, abandoned the ornamental-melody type of treatment of the variation form and conceived it solely as a means of bringing out all the musical phases of a harmonic and melodic structure. It was then a perfect vehicle for soulful poetizing; and Schumann gave it rich, vital music. Mrs. Rhead's rendering was brilliant and satisfying; it hadn't the lion courage, the daemonic force that some masculine interpretations would give it, but it had adequate strength and fine clarity. Mrs. Rhead's Chopin group was unusually well-received. The Berceuse was notable. The piece is the very apotheosis of musical decoration. It consists of little but many enchanting ornamental figures, delicate in tracery and design, over a rocking figure in the bass. A heavy conscientious hand, labouring over these figures, taking them too seriously, playing them with stress and insistence, would have pressed all the charm out of them. Mrs. Rhead, with ease of style and real delicacy of touch, cleverly molded the numerous ornaments into a long, soothing line of slumber music. It was real and pleasing artistry.

Miss Gutenkunst offered two somewhat unambitious groups of songs rather nicely suited, though, to the possibilities of her voice.

Convention Delegates To Hear Prof. Myers

Professor George E. Myers, of the School of Education, will be the speaker at the last of the educational conferences scheduled for this week. It will be held at 4 o'clock this afternoon in the auditorium of the University High school.

In discussing the "Work of the Vocational Guidance Counselor," Professor Myers will speak of the need of counseling high school students. From the many counseling methods now in use, he will select the most effective for a detailed discussion.

Believing that the manner in which counsel is offered is vitally important to the effectiveness of such guidance, Professor Myers will tell of the techniques of interviewing which have proved to give the best results.

AMERICAN ARTISTS TO FEATURE EXHIBIT

Water Colors Seen as Most Recent Medium of Artistic Expression

DUTCH SCHOOL LEADS

An exhibit of water colors brought here under the auspices of the Architectural school will be shown on the first floor of the building throughout the month of July.

The exhibition which includes works by many of the more prominent of the modern school of American artists has been secured especially for the benefit of the summer school.

Water color has in the past been accorded little recognition in artistic circles and has been designated as inferior to oil painting or even pastel. The Dutch school of water colorists showed some of its possibilities and did much to dispel the popular dislike of this form of art. It remained, however, for the Americans, Sargeant and Winslow Homer to demonstrate the real worth of water color as a medium of artistic expression.

Two types of water color are recognized: opaque, or the so-called 'scrub method,' which was used by the Dutch school, and transparent, which is now the accepted form of water color.

Contrary to the usual misconception water colors are permanent and in many cases last longer than oil paintings which dry up and crack when exposed.

The Architectural school exhibition which includes works by such men as Chauncey F. Ryder, Birger Sanzen, John F. Carlson, and John Pearse Ennis and many other artists of note, will be open daily from 9 to 6.

Doctor Studies Actions Of Newly Born Babies

A unique type of research, concerning the newborn child, is being carried on by Dr. Edith S. Bryan of the hygiene department. During two years spent at Johns Hopkins and one year at the University of California, she has collected approximately 200 cases.

In speaking of her work, she said, "I am with the baby at birth and through the following ten days. Its reactions to light, sound, bathing, and food are tested, also its reflex actions, both when the infant is asleep and awake. From my observations I am convinced that the care given them is not all that it could be. We don't use the same judgment and intelligence in taking care of infants that we do in caring for adults."

Dr. Bryan expects to get statistics on at least 1,000 cases. Her aim is to show that there should be a differentiation in the care of babies and to demonstrate that there is a certain development of personality at birth.

Dr. Bryan is finishing a book, "The Soul of Public Nursing" which will be ready for publication this fall. This study should be of utmost importance to the medical professor.

AMERICANS STAGE STRONG COMEBACK ON ENGLISH COURTS

VAN RYN, HENNESEY, ALLISON, SHOW REVERSAL OF FORM AGAINST FRENCH

FRENCHMEN IN DEFEAT

Defeat of Helen Wills and Partner Marks Fall of American Hope for Dual Win

(By Associated Press)

WIMBLEDON, England, July 3.—America scored a crashing victory over some of the finest tennis players of France on the courts of the famous Wimbledon tennis club. In a thrilling and hotly contested match John Van Ryn of New Jersey and Wilmer Allison of Texas defeated the great French pair of Jacques Brugnon and Jean Borotra, 7-5, 8-6, 3-6, 8-6.

In upsetting the veteran Frenchmen in four sets the young Americans provided the first real upset of the week of title play on these courts. The brilliant all court game of Van Ryn, former Princeton captain, and the flashy overhead performances of the Texan proved too much for the Frenchmen who have been featuring international tennis for seven years.

The more experienced doubles team of Bill Tilden and Francis Hunter won over George Lott and John Hennesey in the only all-American match of the day. The steadiness of the veterans was the deciding factor in this encounter.

In the doubles America suffered a blow almost without precedence when Helen Wills, queen of the world's women net stars, and her fellow Californian went down in defeat before the ambitious play of the English team of Miss McIlquiham and Mrs. Harvey in three hard fought sets, 6-4, 8-10, 6-3.

Allison and Van Ryn, recent graduates from the intercollegiate class, are comparative newcomers to international play. In their eagerness to meet the approval of the large American gallery they tried every kind of shot and succeeded in making many sensational returns and smashes. Allison found the grass most slippery and fell four times full length on the dewy turf.

CONGRESS WOMAN SHOWS MUCH ZEAL

Protesting that no distinction should be made between men and women who are engaged in public life, Mrs. Ruth Baker Pratt, first woman representative from New York state, makes her political career one which offers a sound example of the truth of her contentions.

Disregarding the many millions which she possesses in her own right, Mrs. Pratt has ordered her life in accordance with the soundest principles of the old school; yet at the same time she has found the opportunity to acquire the best that the new school of political machinations has to offer. She has made party policies, regularity, and organization her chief concerns; on the other hand, she combines independence with them to form her own school, which could well be adopted as the truest representative of the ideals of modern American women in politics.

Tigers Beat Browns In Slipshod Game

(By Associated Press)

American League

Detroit, 10; St. Louis, 4.
Cleveland, 4; Chicago, 3.
Cleveland, 4-5; Chicago, 3-4.
New York, 4; Boston, 3.
Philadelphia, 7; Washington, 4.

National League

New York, 6; Boston, 3.
Pittsburgh, 5; ;St. Louis, 3.
Chicago, 5; Cincinnati, 4.

THE WEATHER
Prevailing north and south winds.

The Summer
Michigan Daily

MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

VOL. X. No. 9. ANN ARBOR, MICHIGAN, WEDNESDAY, JLUY 3, 1929 PRICE FIVE CENTS

INTELLECTS SHOULD READ PRIZE NOVELS SAYS PROF. SCHINZ

PROFESSOR ALBERT SCHINZ ADVOCATES SELECTIONS OF ACADEMIES

120 TO CHOOSE FROM

Printing Houses Have Complicated Matters by Flooding Market With Countless Books

The chief difficulty in attempting to read the contemporary French novel intelligently is, in the opinion of Professor Albert Schinz, of the University of Pennsylvania, that of choosing just what to read.

In his lecture, "The Contemporary Novel in France," at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon in Natural Science auditorium, Professor Schinz stressed this point and remarked that printing houses were publishing so many novels that choosing only what was worth while in this field was becoming a real problem.

As an aid for selection Professor Schinz suggested his own method for meeting this difficulty. He reads mostly those books which have been awarded prizes by the various French academies and the literary societies. Inasmuch as there are about 1120 of these, the problem is very greatly simplified and he has found that over 60 per cent of those novels which have been awarded prizes are read and enjoy great popularity even as late as 10 years after the date of the original publication.

Awards for Merit

In particular there are the French Academy, The Concourt Academy, and the Prix Femina which gives awards for literary merit. The Goncourt and the Femina prizes, said Schinz, work in opposition to each other. They both award prizes on the same day, and the Goncourt prize is restricted to men only, where as the Prix Femina will honor both men and women. The French Academy so far has awarded prizes to only two women.

In his lecture Professor Schinz divided the Contemporary novel into two groups, the continuation of the pre-war tendencies and the newer tendencies.

SIMPSON HURT IN DENVER TRYOUTS

(By Associated Press)

DENVER, Colorado, July 2.—George Simpson, Ohio State sprinter and holder of the unofficial world's record of 9.4 seconds for the 100 yard dash, sprained a tendon in his right leg while practicing at the Denver University stadium this afternoon.

His coach, Dr. Frank Castleman, said the sprinter would probably be withdrawn from the National Track and Field championships that are to be run off her Thursday.

Simpson's injury is similar to the one he recently received at the Big Ten meet in Chicago. Today's workout was the first that he has had since this meet. The Ohio State sprinter came here to defend his title of the fastest human in the world. The inability of Simpson to run will leave the honor open to Bracey of Texas, and Tolan of Michigan. The failure of Simpson to compete will detract much in the way of sensation.

Music School Offers Concerts By Faculty

For those who enjoy the classical type of music, the School of Music is offering six more Faculty Concerts. These recitals will take place every Tuesday evening at auditorium starting at 8 o'clock.

Although the program has not been definitely fixed, the artists for these concerts are the outstanding members of the faculty in the School of Music and students who have shown unusual talent with much promise of future greatness.

Education Professors To Meet At Mackinac

Professor Cleo Murtland and Professor George E. Myers, both of the faculty of the education school, will be among the principal speakers at the national convention of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs which is to be held Thursday, July 11, at Mackinac Island.

Professor Murtland will discuss the problem of vocational guidance in the smaller cities, and Professor Myers will take the same subject as applied to the rural community.

As a result of the increased attention recently given by educators to the vocational guidance problem, various professional and business associations have begun a study of the subject, as evidenced by the study being done by the Federation of guidance as practiced in typical communities.

Y M C A TO SPONSOR TALK BY DR. FORRER

Minister From Detroit Will Speak at Lydia Mendelssohn Theater on Sunday Night

PUBLIC INVITED TO COME

Continuing their policy of the regular session, the Student Christian Association is sponsoring a convocation in the Lydia Mendelssohn theater Sunday night, July 21. The speaker for the evening will be Dr. Samuel Forrer.

Dr. Forrer is minister of the Jefferson Avenue Presbyterian church of Detroit. Dr. Forrer is an excellent speaker and is well known throughout the country.

The Student Christian Association has secured many speakers for their convocations of the fall and winter season. Such famous speakers as Dr. William Lyon Phelps, Bishop McConnell, Dr. Charles Gilkey, Miss Jane Addams, and George Sherwood Eddy have come to Ann Arbor on the invitation of the Student Christian Association in the last few years.

These convocations are arranged primarily for the benefit of those attending the University but in the past it has been the custom to make these speeches open to the public, so unless an announcement to the contrary appears this policy will be continued this summer.

All students are invited to attend this, the first of two to be held this summer. There will be music as well as the message by Dr. Forrer.

The Student Christian Association is continuing this work into the Summer Session is following its policy of really assisting the student body in attaining a high set of ideals.

Galsworthy's 'Escape' To Open Run Tonight

Opening their second week of plays for the summer season, Play Production's Repertory players will present John Galsworthy's notable success, "Escape," at 8:15 o'clock tonight in the Lydia Mendelssohn theater in the League building. Performances will be given at the same hour each night during the remainder of the week.

This production will be the first of a number which are to be directed by Prof. Chester M. Wallace, eminent drama coach from the Carnegie Institute of Technology, Pittsburgh. This school has one of the foremost drama courses in the country.

"Escape" met with its first success in London, remaining on the boards there for more than a year. Later it scored a similar success in New York. The Ann Arbor presentation will be one of the first in this country outside of New York.

The play, divided into nine episodes, opens in Hyde park, London. Although there are some thirty persons in the cast, only one character connects the various scenes which portray the reaction of different groups of society to an escaped convict.

Chicago Flyers To Leave Soon On Round Trip Ocean Venture

Bob Gast, left, and Parker (Shorty) Cramer will direct the destinies of the Sikorsky amphibian plane, the "Untin" Bowler, seen below, which is scheduled for a round trip flight of the Atlantic from Chicago to Berlin via north-circle route and then back via Warsaw, Stockholm, Bergen and then over the same course as the eastward route. The Chicago flyers plan to leave late this week on their daring venture.

DORMITORY PLANS BEING RE-DRAWN

Plans for the new women's dormitory to be erected on Observatory road are now being re-drawn by the architects Malcomson and Higinbotham, Detroit, so as to provide for changes in construction recently recommended. It is expected that the final plans will be completed early in August, after which bids will be called for. If the bids received are within the estimates, construction will begin between the first and the fifteenth of September.

The new dormitory which will house more than 430 students will face Palmer field, the women's athlet grounds. The observatory entrance is to be made attractive since this is the only automobile approach to the building.

Part of the land which the new building will occupy was purchased by a group of Detroit alumni, headed by Mason Rumney, to supplement the tract already obtained by the Regents. The dormitory will cost approximately $995,000.

DEAN WELLS SEES IMPORTANT NEED

Agnes E. Wells, dean of women at Indiana university, in speaking to the Women's Education club Monday night at the League, told of the cooperative work of the American Association of University Women with the international organization in building up funds for fellowships for women who have accomplished definite research work.

She emphasized the importance of giving more attention to fellowships and less to scholarships, since these would benefit a more highly selected group. The association has set $1,000,000 for its goal, one-half to be used in the international fund and one half in this country.

Through these fellowships it is hoped that a better international understanding may be brought about. The three outstanding characteristics which one must possess to be considered for one of these fellowships are: power to receive new impressions, imagination, and persistence in overcoming difficulties.

First Of Faculty Concerts Proves Most Entertaining

A Review By William J Gorman

Before a large crowd in Hill Auditorium last night, Mabel Ross Rhead, pianist, and Kathryn Gutekunst, contralto, gave one of the most entertaining concerts of the whole faculty series this year.

Mrs. Rhead opened the concert with the "Etudes Symphoniques" of Schumann. This is one of the finest sets of variations in all piano literature; Schumann, following the later Beethoven style, abandoned the ornamental-melody type of treatment of the variation form and conceived it solely as a means of bringing out all the musical phases of a harmonic and melodic structure. It was then a perfect vehicle for soulful poetizing; and Schumann gave it rich, vital music. Mrs. Rhead's rendering was brilliant and satisfying; it hadn't the lion courage, the daemonic force that some masculine interpretations would give it, but it had adequate strength and fine clarity. Mrs. Rhead's Chopin group was unusually well-received. The Berceuse was notable. The piece is the very apotheosis of musical decoration. It consists of little but many enchanting ornamental figures, delicate in tracery and design, over a rocking figure in the bass. A heavy conscientious hand, labouring over these figures, taking them too seriously, playing them with stress and insistence, would have pressed all the charm out of them. Mrs. Rhead, with ease of style and real delicacy of touch, cleverly melded the numerous ornaments into a long, soothing line of slumber music. It was real and pleasing artistry.

Miss Gutenkunst offered two somewhat unambitious groups of songs rather nicely suited, though, to the possibilities of her voice.

Convention Delegates To Hear Prof. Myers

Professor George E. Myers, of the School of Education, will be the speaker at the last of the educational conferences scheduled for this week. It will be held at 4 o'clock this afternoon in the auditorium of the University High school.

In discussing the "Work of the Vocational Guidance Counselor," Professor Myers will speak of the need of counseling high school students. From the many counseling methods now in use, he will select the most effective for a detailed discussion.

Believing that the manner in which counsel is offered is vitally important to the effectiveness of such guidance, Professor Myers will tell of the techniques of interviewing which have proved to give the best results.

AMERICAN ARTISTS TO FEATURE EXHIBIT

Water Colors Seen as Most Recent Medium of Artistic Expression

DUTCH SCHOOL LEADS

An exhibit of water colors brought here under the auspices of the Architectural school will be shown on the first floor of the building throughout the month of July.

The exhibition which includes works by many of the more prominent of the modern school of American artists has been secured especially for the benefit of the summer school.

Water color has in the past been accorded little recognition in artistic circles and has been designated as inferior to oil painting or even pastel. The Dutch school of water colorists showed some of its possibilities and did much to dispel the popular dislike of this form of art. It remained, however, for the Americans, Sargeant and Winslow Homer to demonstrate the real worth of water color as a medium of artistic expression.

Two types of water color are recognized: opaque, or the so-called 'scrub method,' which was used by the Dutch school, and transparent, which is now the accepted form of water color.

Contrary to the usual misconception water colors are permanent and in many cases last longer than oil paintings which dry up and crack when exposed.

The Architectural school exhibition which includes works by such men as Chauncey F. Ryder, Birger Sanzen, John F. Carlson, and John Pearse Ennis and many other artists of note, will be open daily from 9 to 6.

Doctor Studies Actions Of Newly Born Babies

A unique type of research, concerning the newborn child, is being carried on by Dr. Edith S. Bryan of the hygiene department. During two years spent at Johns Hopkins and one year at the University of California, she has collected approximately 200 cases.

In speaking of her work, she said, "I am with the baby at birth and through the following ten days. Its reactions to light, sound, bathing, and food are tested, also its reflex actions, both when the infant is asleep and awake. From my observations I am convinced that the care given them is not all that it could be. We don't use the same judgment and intelligence in taking care of infants that we do in caring for adults."

Dr. Bryan expects to get statistics on at least 1,000 cases. Her aim is to show that there should be a differentiation in the care of babies and to demonstrate that there is a certain development of personality at birth..

Dr. Bryan is finishing a book, "The Soul of Public Nursing" which will be ready for publication this fall. This study should be of utmost importance to the medical professor.

AMERICANS STAGE STRONG COMEBACK ON ENGLISH COURTS

VAN RYN, HENNESEY, ALLISON, SHOW REVERSAL OF FORM AGAINST FRENCH

FRENCHMEN IN DEFEAT

Defeat of Helen Wills and Partner Marks Fall of American Hope for Dual Win

(By Associated Press)

WIMBLEDON, England, July 3—America scored a crashing victory over some of the finest tennis players of France on the courts of the famous Wimbledon tennis club. In a thrilling and hotly contested match John Van Ryn of New Jersey and Wilmer Allison of Texas defeated the great French pair of Jacques Brugnon and Jean Borotra, 7-5, 8-6, 3-6, 8-6.

In upsetting the veteran Frenchmen in four sets the young Americans provided the first real upset of the week of title play on these courts. The brilliant all court game of Van Ryn, former Princeton captain, and the flashy overhead performances of the Texan proved too much for the Frenchmen who have been featuring international tennis for seven years.

The more experienced doubles team of Bill Tilden and Francis Hunter won over George Lott and John Hennesey in the only all-American match of the day. The steadiness of the veterans was the deciding factor in this encounter.

In the doubles America suffered a blow almost without precedence when Helen Wills, queen of the world's women net stars, and her fellow Californian went down in defeat before the ambitious play of the English team of Miss McIlliquiham and Mrs. Harvey in three hard fought sets, 6-4, 8-10, 6-3.

Allison and Van Ryn, recent graduates from the intercollegiate class, are comparative newcomers to international play. In their eagerness to meet the approval of the large American gallery they tried every kind of shot and succeeded in making many sensational returns and smashes. Allison found the grass most slippery and fell four times full length on the dewy turf.

CONGRESS WOMAN SHOWS MUCH ZEAL

Protesting that no distinction should be made between men and women who are engaged in public life, Mrs. Ruth Baker Pratt, first woman representative from New York state, makes her political career one which offers a sound example of the truth of her contentions.

Disregarding the many millions which she possesses in her own right, Mrs. Pratt has ordered her life in accordance with the soundest principles of the old school; yet at the same time she has found the opportunity to acquire the best that the new school of political machinations has to offer. She has made party policies, regularity, and organization her chief concerns; on the other hand, she combines independence with them to form her own school, which could well be adopted as the truest representative of the ideals of modern American women in politics.

Tigers Beat Browns In Slipshod Game

(By Associated Press)

American League

Detroit, 10; St. Louis, 4.
Cleveland, 4; Chicago, 3.
Cleveland, 4-5; Chicago, 3-4.
New York, 4; Boston, 3.
Philadelphia, 7; Washington, 4.

National League

New York, 6; Boston, 3.
Pittsburgh, 5; St. Louis, 3.
Chicago, 5; Cincinnati, 4.