Prohibition Machinery to be Reorganized at Early Date

DESIRES QUICK ACTION

Chief Executive Asks Committee to Thrash Out Details

(By Associated Press)

By Richard L. Turner

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1—To expedite the contemplated reorganization of Federal prohibition enforcement machinery, President Hoover has designated John McNab, a San Francisco attorney, to study the situation in cooperation with interested governmental agencies and formulate recommendations for Congressional action.

This announcement was made today by the chief executive who disclosed at the same time that he expects specific recommendation to be ready for transmission to the capitol at the regular December session of Congress.

As an additional means of bringing early action, Mr. Hoover is hopeful that Congress meanwhile will adopt his suggestion of last June and appoint a joint committee to make an inquiry before the session begins. In this way, he believes legislation could be formulated and laid before the two houses at the outset of the session, thus avoiding the delay of protracted committee hearing after this session has begun.

Enforcement To Be Transferred

Reviewing briefly the general form the reorganization is to take, the President said its primary purpose would be a centralization of responsibility in the department of Justice. To bring this about, it is proposed that the administrative phases of enforcement now under the jurisdiction of the Treasury be transferred to the Justice department, giving to that branch of the government responsibility for both administration and investigation.

The inquiry also will include methods of expediting judicial action. Mr. Hoover pointed out that these proposals, "have to do solely with administration and proceedure in enforcement of the laws and not with change in the laws themselves."

McNab Is Old Friend

The President said McNab had accepted the appointment at the joint request of himself, Secretary Mellon, Attorney-General Mitchell and Chairman Wickersham of the Law enforcement commission. It is intended that he shall work in cooperation with the agencies that Mellon, Mitchell, and Wickersham represent, possibly to coordinate their individual findings.

McNab, an old friend and formerly a fellow townsman of the President, came to Washington yesterday, and since has been a house guest of the chief executive. Because of his long association with Mr. Hoover, he was chosen to make the speech placing the President's name in nomination at the Republican National Convention last year in Kansas City.

AIR TOUR WILL START SATURDAY

Ann Arbor's interest in the annual National Air Tour starting Saturday from Ford Airport will center on William Welborn and the Spartan biplane entered by the Spartan Aircraft Co., of Tulsa, Okla., distributed in Michigan and Ohio by the Flo Flying Services, Inc., lessee of Ann Arbor Municipal Airport.

The Spartan entry, which reached Ford Airport Monday with 11 other planes participating in the tour, is similar to the biplanes used by the Flo company at the Ann Arbor field. Welborn is a factory pilot of long experience.

Thirty-two cities will be visited by the 38 tour planes in 16 days, and more than 4,800 miles lie before the aviators before they return to Ford Airport. The first stop will be Walkerville, Ont., only a few minutes flight from Dearborn, and the first night stop will be Toronto.

MEMBERS OF FACULTY RECEIVE POLAR GREETINGS FROM GOULD

Prof. Lawrence M. Gould, of the geology department, who is a member of Commander Richard E. Byrd's expedition to the Antarctic, keeps in touch with many of his Ann Arbor friends by exchange of radio messages.

Several members of the University faculty have received radio messages from Professor Gould within the last few days. The recipients of these radiograms plan to reply to Professor Gould through the University radio station, 8 AXZ, which is in direct communication with the Byrd station, 135 WFASQ, every Friday night.

In addition to the messages received in this direct exchange between the University and Byrd expedition stations, some messages from the Antarctic are received by the New York Times radio station, which is in daily communication with Byrd, and relayed to Ann Arbor by telegraph or mail.

Prof. Arthur D. Moore, of the department of electrical engineering, recently received the following message from Professor Gould: "Have been thinking of you often. All of us looking forward to busy Antarctic summer, then home. Regards to all. Larry Gould."

A somewhat longer message was sent by Professor Gould to Prof. E. C. Case, of the department of historical geology and paleontology.

Messages for the expedition can be sent to the department of electrical engineering for radio transmission, it is announced by Professor Moore. The messages will be broadcast the Friday night following their receipt at the department.

DEBATE LEAGUE ANNOUNCES PLAN

Two-Hundred-Fifty Schools Making Preparation To Take Part In Contest

The Michigan High School Extension Division under the University Extension Division has announced that the subject for this year's debates will be "Resolved: That a Judge, or Board of Judges, be substituted for the jury in all trials in the State and Municipal Courts of Michigan." With a membership for the season of more than 250 state high schools, the association plans to hold four preliminary and six elemination contests. The final state championship debate is scheduled to be held in Hill auditorium on April 11, 1929.

All member schools may secure through the University Extension Service specially prepared briefs and specific data on the debate question, and so far as possible this service will be supplemented by books, magazines, and correspondence obtained from authorities.

The League began in 1917 for the purpose of promoting effective public speaking and the use of good English and to stimulate the public discussion of state and national problems through the medium of interscholastic debates. Mr. G. E. Densemore, of the speech department, is in charge of the debating.

MILAN TO HAVE PLANE FACTORY

The Dare Aeroplane Co. of Detroit, will locate its manufacturing plant at Milan, according to an announcement made by officials of the company. The Milan project includes a 400 acre airport and a two-story factory building, 80 x 130 feet, affording approximately 25,000 square feet of floor space.

Production of two planes for entry in the Guggenheim safe aerocraft competition will be started before the end of this week and plans call for the production of 14 ships between now and the first of the year.

TWO DEATHS MARK HURRICANE'S PATH CONTINUING NORTH

Flying Debris Brings Death to Carpenter in Albany

WOMAN IS ELECTROCUTED

Communication Broken Throughout Storm Section

(By Associated Press)

ATLANTA, Oct. 1.—Excessive rainfall, high winds and two deaths marked the progress of the tropical storm which wormed northeastward through Georgia today, after entering the state through the Gulf of Mexico.

Shorn of its hurricane force by contact with land, the storm vented its wrath in gales and rain which exacted heavy toll of all communication lines and sent many streams toward the back fulls and flood stages.

The 30 to 50 mile gale accompanying the storm took one life at Albany. Dewey Moore, 30, carpenter, was killed by flying debris at a crumbling brick cotton gin where he had stopped to repair his automobile.

Mrs. Isham Douberly was electrocuted near Blackshear, Ga., when she came in contact with a high voltage wire blown down by the wind. Otherwise, damage from wind throughout the storm area appeared to be minor.

Storm Hesitates Momentarily

The storm hesitated as it entered the state headed northeastward and remained central in the area of Thomasville for several hours. The course then curved northeastward. C. F. Von Hermann, of the Atlanta weather bureau said, and lay diagonally toward the Atlantic.

If the disturbance is sharply checked by high pressure areas to the north, the course will lie directly to the coast, probably just north of Brunswick, Ga. Otherwise, it will head more gradually up the Atlantic coastline, probably emerging to the ocean around Charleston, S. C. Late today Brunswick reported a falling barometer and a 50 mile gale, and Savannah was expected to experience 45 to 60 mile winds tonight.

Meanwhile telegraph and telephone communication was difficult through the storm area.

Augusta Will Again Suffer

East Georgia in the vicinity of Augusta, which has emerged from a battle with the Savanah river after it reached a 46 stage, the highest in history, again will bear the brunt of a high water stage. A 35 foot stage is expected at Augusta.

Augusta was still out off from South Carolina, today, but temporary highway and rail communication was established.

Dawes Given Rousing Greeting in Sudbury

(By Associated Press)

SUDBURY, Eng., Oct. 1.—This quaint old English Burrough which numbers among its industries the manufacture of coconnut fibre, "Welcome" mats for the door-steps of the world had only one big industry today, that was the making of a rousing welcome for Ambassador Charles G. Dawes.

The ambassador was made an honorary free man of the borrough, from which one of his ancestors, William Dawes, set out with the Puritan settlers of the Massachusetts colonies in 1628. He was hailed as the personification of America's vigorous advocacy of race by officials of the municipality. They added that Sudbury looked upon this American descendant of a 17th century Sudbury stone mason as their own contribution to the ranks of the world's statesmen.

TABLES ARE TURNED AS FROSH HALT SOPHOMORES ON STREET

BY GUMLEY

Last year's assortment of freshmen was considered to be the freshest assortment of frosh that has descended upon campus for many a year, and perhaps it was, but even the most superficial and casual observation on the part of those who roam around State street after the sun goes down will serve to show that the class of 1933 has set its heart upon making the antics of the class of 1932 look like the gambols of mild Sunday school picnickers.

For the last two nights the Spirit of '33 has been unleashed at various points on campus and wandering sophomores have suddenly discovered themselves to be the center of interest at the hands of determined gray-potted frosh. There is a lot of yelling and a scuffle or two before the second year men are permitted to proceed, but to date no casualties have been reported.

Whether or not this unusual procedure is intended to cause the class of '32 to pause in its tracks and ponder or whether the class of '33 doesn't care if the class of '32 does pause to ponder, is an unanswered question; but the fact remains that the freshmen have lost no time in proclaiming to those interested that the high-spirited sophs are going to have a hard time retaining their laurels as one of Michigan's greatest first-year class.

TAFT RETURNS FROM VACATION

Chief Justice's Health is Much Improved During Summer

(By Associated Press)

By John T. Suter, Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1—With an even, easy stride, Chief Justice Taft this afternoon walked through the Union station where last June when starting on his vacation he used a wheel-chair to reach his train.

Today he was returning from a summer at Murray Bay, Canada. Last June he was leaving a hospital where upon the advice of his physician he went for minor treatment.

The chief justice, who was 72 on September 15, was in a cheerful mood as he stepped from the train and walked through the long shed and station, explaining between characteristic chuckles that Mrs. Taft could not resist the feminine temptation to shop in New York City and had stopped over there to replenish her wardrobe.

He made minute inquiries concerning the condition of the docket in the Supreme Court, stating that he wanted to report himself ready for work.

Spent Busy Summer

Mr. Taft has not been idle during the summer. He has already examined many of the 262 petitions for review filed during the recess. In these the court, during the first two weeks of its new term beginning Monday, must winnow the wheat from the chaff, and select those which present controversies and must consider on their merits.

The chief justice stopped on the way to a taxicab stand to check nine trunks, and chatted with the baggage agent. As he looked through his purse and pockets for American money, he remarked that the traveler always got the worst of it in exchanging money of one nation for that of another. The red-cap who carried several large hand-bags to the train tonight will engage in the money exchanging business, convertign into American currency Canadian money which the chief justice generously added to his tip.

Has Lost Weight

While Mr. Taft shows a loss of girth and some weight, his complexion was excellent and he seemed to have found new physical strength during his absence from Washington. With the cooperation of the eight associate justices he has succeeded in removing confestion from the docket of the Supreme Court and in bringing its business so nearly to date will have difficulty in finding cases to consider. And on Thursday he will hold his annual conference with Federal Circuit judges to consider the condition of business in the Federal Courts throughout the country. These conferences already have brought about marked improvement, and the forthcoming one will devote three days to an effort, with the assistance of Attorney-General Mitchell, to devise means for further improvement.

Eligibility of Iowa Players Undecided

(By Associated Press)

IOWA CITY, Iowa, Oct. 1.—Decision on the eligibility of 12 University of Iowa football players barred from play last Saturday was postponed until Wednesday because of the absence of one of its members, Prof. Louis Telver, who was attending the funeral of one of his associates on the Big Ten faculty committee, Prof. G. A. Goodenough, of Illinois.

WORK FOR OPERA TO BEGIN TODAY

Positions Still Open in Men's Singing Chorus

Initial fall preparation for the 1929 Union Opera is expected to get under way at 4 o'clock this afternoon in Mimes theater with a meeting of the try-outs for the cast and choruses, and the chairmen of the various committees, according to Robert Manss, '30, general chairman of the production.

The work will be a continuation of the activities of last Spring for some try-outs who attended the practices at that time. But material is still needed for the choruses, especially the men's singing chorus, according to Manss.

The book for this year's show has been completed, and the lyrics for the score are being written.

Try-outs from the Spring practice will be drilled as usual and new material will be added as it is discovered. Routine steps and the testing of voices will continue for a time and work with the book of the production will not be begun for several weeks, although the show will go into rehearsal somewhat earlier than it has in the past years.

Outside talent, the form of which will be announced at a later date, will be employed in about a month to help E. Mortimer Shuter, director of Mimes productions, in the drilling of the cast and choruses.

WIFE ATTEMPTS HUSBAND'S LIFE

Clayton Yates, 38-year-old Milan resident, was in a dying condition at the University hospital last night and his wife, Neva Yates, 33, was lodged in the county jail pending charges to be preferred against her today of attempting to murder her husband with a razor.

Mrs. Yates confessed yesterday afternoon to Sheriff James Robeson that she leaned over from the back seat of their car and slashed her husband's throat as he was driving toward Milan at about 9:30 Monday night. She told him he had been shot and took the wheel of the car, attempting to wreck it in the ditch several hundred yards farther down the road. Then they walked to a farm house and were driven to Milan, where Dr. C. F. Fry sewed up the wound and sent Yates to the University hospital in an ambulance.

The only motive for the attempt on Yates' life that has yet appeared is a $10,700 life insurance policy which he took out two weeks ago. The Yateses are the parents of three boys, aged 13, 11, and 8 years.

Communication Broken Throughout Storm Section

(By Associated Press)

ATLANTA, Oct. 1.—Excessive rainfall, high winds and two deaths marked the progress of the tropical storm which wormed northeastward through Georgia today, after entering the state through the Gulf of Mexico.

Shorn of its hurricane force by contact with land, the storm vented its wrath in gales and rain which exacted heavy toll of all communication lines and sent many streams toward the back fulls and flood stages.

The 30 to 50 mile gale accompanying the storm took one life at Albany. Dewey Moore, 30, carpenter, was killed by flying debris at a crumbling brick cotton gin where he had stopped to repair his automobile.

Mrs. Isham Douberly was electrocuted near Blackshear, Ga., when she came in contact with a high voltage wire blown down by the wind. Otherwise, damage from wind throughout the storm area appeared to be minor.

Storm Hesitates Momentarily

The storm hesitated as it entered the state headed northeastward and remained central in the area of Thomasville for several hours. The course then curved northeastward. C. F. Von Hermann, of the Atlanta weather bureau said, and lay diagonally toward the Atlantic.

If the disturbance is sharply checked by high pressure areas to the north, the course will lie directly to the coast, probably just north of Brunswick, Ga. Otherwise, it will head more gradually up the Atlantic coastline, probably emerging to the ocean around Charleston, S. C. Late today Brunswick reported a falling barometer and a 50 mile gale, and Savannah was expected to experience 45 to 60 mile winds tonight.

Meanwhile telegraph and telephone communication was difficult through the storm area.

Augusta Will Again Suffer

East Georgia in the vicinity of Augusta, which has emerged from a battle with the Savannah river after it reached a 48 stage, the highest in history, again will bear the brunt of a high water stage. A 35 foot stage is expected at Augusta.

Augusta was still cut off from South Carolina, today, but temporary highway and rail communication was established.

Dawes Given Rousing Greeting in Sudbury

(By Associated Press)

SUDBURY, Eng., Oct. 1.—This quaint old English Burrough which numbers among its industries the manufacture of cocoanut fibre, "Welcome" mats for the door-steps of the world had one big industry today, that was the making of a rousing welcome for Ambassador Charles G. Dawes.

The ambassador was made an honorary free man of the borrough, from which one of his ancestors, William Dawes, set out with the Puritan settlers of the Massachusetts colonies in 1628. He was hailed as the personification of America's vigorous advocacy of race by officials of the municipality. They added that Sudbury looked upon this American descendant of a 17th century Sudbury stone mason as their own contribution to the ranks of the world's statesmen.

TABLES ARE TURNED AS FROSH HALT SOPHOMORES ON STREET

BY GUMLEY

Last year's assortment of freshmen was considered to be the freshest assortment of frosh that has descended upon campus for many a year, and perhaps it was, but even the most superficial and casual observation on the part of those who roam around State street after the sun goes down will serve to show that the class of 1933 has set its heart upon making the antics of the class of 1932 look like the gambols of mild Sunday school picnickers.

For the last two nights the Spirit of '33 has been unleashed at various points on campus and wandering sophomores have suddenly discovered themselves to be the center of interest at the hands of determined gray-potted frosh. There is a lot of yelling and a scuffle or two before the second year men are permitted to proceed, but to date no casualties have been reported.

Whether or not this unusual procedure is intended to cause the class of '32 to pause in its tracks and ponder or whether the class of '33 doesn't care if the class of '32 does pause to ponder, is an unanswered question; but the fact remains that the freshmen have lost no time in proclaiming to those interested that the high-spirited sophs are going to have a hard time retaining their laurels as one of Michigan's greatest first-year class.

TAFT RETURNS FROM VACATION

Chief Justice's Health is Much Improved During Summer

(By Associated Press)

By John T. Suter, Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—With an even, easy stride, Chief Justice Taft this afternoon walked through the Union station where last June when starting on his vacation he used a wheel-chair to reach his train.

Today he was returning from a summer at Murray Bay, Canada. Last June he was leaving a hospital where upon the advice of his physician he went for minor treatment.

The chief justice, who was 72 on September 15, was in a cheerful mood as he stepped from the train and walked through the long shed and station, explaining between characteristic chuckles that Mrs. Taft could not resist the feminine temptation to shop in New York City and had stopped over there to replenish her wardrobe.

He made minute inquiries concerning the condition of the docket in the Supreme Court, stating that he wanted to report himself ready for work.

Spent Busy Summer

Mr. Taft has not been idle during the summer. He has already examined many of the 262 petitions for review filed during the recess. In these the court, during the first two weeks of its new term beginning Monday, must winnow the wheat from the chaff, and select those which present controversies and must consider on their merits.

The chief justice stopped on the way to a taxicab stand to check nine trunks, and chatted with the baggage agent. As he looked through his purse and pockets for American money, he remarked that the traveler always got the worst of it in exchanging money of one nation for that of another. The red-cap who carried several large hand-bags to the train, tonight will engage in the money exchanging business, convertign into American currency Canadian money which the chief justice generously added to his tip.

Has Lost Weight

While Mr. Taft shows a loss of girth and some weight, his complexion was excellent and he seems to have found new physical strength during his absence from Washington. With the cooperation of the eight associate justices he has succeeded in removing conjestion from the docket of the Supreme Court and in bringing its business so nearly to date will have difficulty in finding cases to consider. And on Thursday he will hold his annual conference with Federal Circuit judges to consider the condition of business in the Federal Courts throughout the country. These conferences already have brought about marked improvement, and the forthcoming one will devote three days to an effort, with the assistance of Attorney-General Mitchell, to devise means for further improvement.

Eligibility of Iowa Players Undecided

IOWA CITY, Iowa, Oct. 1.—Decision on the eligibility of 12 University of Iowa football players barred from play last Saturday was postponed until Wednesday because of the absence of one of its members, Prof. Louis Telver, who was attending the funeral of one of his associates on the Big Ten faculty committee, Prof. G. A. Goodenough, of Illinois.

WORK FOR OPERA TO BEGIN TODAY

Positions Still Open in Men's Singing Chorus

Initial fall preparation for the 1929 Union Opera is expected to get under way at 4 o'clock this afternoon in Mimes theater with a meeting of the try-outs for the cast and choruses, and the chairmen of the various committees, according to Robert Manss, '30, general chairman of the production.

The work will be a continuation of the activities of last Spring for some try-outs who attended the practices at that time. But material is still needed for the choruses, especially the men's singing chorus, according to Manss.

The book for this year's show has been completed, and the lyrics for the score are being written.

Try-outs from the Spring practice will be drilled as usual and new material will be added as it is discovered. Routine steps and the testing of voices will continue for a time and work with the book of the production will not be begun for several weeks, although the show will go into rehearsal somewhat earlier than it has in the past years.

Outside talent, the form of which will be announced at a later date, will be employed in about a month to help E. Mortimer Shuter, director of Mimes productions, in the drilling of the cast and choruses.

WIFE ATTEMPTS HUSBAND'S LIFE

Clayton Yates, 38-year-old Milan resident, was in a serious condition at the University hospital last night and his wife, Neva Yates, 33, was lodged in the county jail pending charges to be preferred against her today of attempting to murder her husband with a razor.

Mrs. Yates confessed yesterday afternoon to Sheriff James Robeson that she leaned over from the back seat of their car and gashed her husband's throat as he was driving toward Milan at about 9:30 Monday night. She told him he had been shot and took the wheel of the car, attempting to wreck it in the ditch several hundred yards farther down the road. Then they walked to a farm house and were driven to Milan, where Dr. C. F. Fry sewed up the wound and sent Yates to the University hospital in an ambulance.

The only motive for the attempt on Yates' life that has yet appeared is a $10,700 life insurance policy which he took out two weeks ago. The Yatesca are the parents of three boys, aged 13, 11, and 8 years.

Billion Is Issued In Small Currency

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—More than $1,000,000,000 in small-sized money has been distributed since July 10.

The aggregate amount of paper currency in circulation is about five billions, which means the Treasury has completed one-fifth of its job. At this rate old bills should be completely discarded late next spring. Henceforth issuance of the smaller money will be speedier.

Silver certificates in the amount of $268,380,000, gold certificates worth $147,480,000 and United States notes aggregating $123,504,000 have been issued.
