Stanley C. Killian, Steinar Vaksdal In Engineering Spotlight For Month

The May Michigan Technic, second issue to be published under the direction of the newly appointed staff, will be on sale tomorrow, Tuesday, and Wednesday in the West Engineering Arch and in the lobby of the East Engineering building.

Engineers should find this number of the Technic, which is the final and largest issue of the school year, a valuable keepsake, according to the present staff, as it contains several articles of interest about the college, and a summary of the year's activities in and about the College of Engineering.

The leading article is a history of the College of Engineering, written by Philip R. Ewald, '35E, telling the story of the college from 1837 on when it was first established as a division in the literary college.

Other articles tell of the World's Fair, and of the projected stratosphere flight to be made by Major W. E. Kepner and Captain A. W. Stevens of the U.S. Army Air Corps. The balloon in which the ascent will be made will be constructed, says the article by Charles A. Dierz, '34E, of two and one-third acres of cotton cloth, and will contain when inflated 2,000,000 cubic feet of gas, with a diameter of 188 feet.

Another of the series of engineering fair articles by Prof. W. C. Sadler appears in the current issue, this time dealing with the technicalities of the law involved in business transactions through agencies.

There is also a feature article on W8AXZ, the University's amateur short-wave radio transmitting station, which has been used in the past to communicate with the University's Greenland Expedition and with the 1930 Byrd Antarctic Expedition.

In the Engineering Spotlight this month are Stanley C. Killian and Steinar Vaksdal. Killian, recent editor of the Technic, is a member of Sigma Rho Tau, Triangle, Pi Tau Pi Sigma, of the R.O.T.C., Vulcans, and Tau Beta Phi. He has been chairman of the Slide Rule Ball committee, and a member of the Military Ball Committee and the Engineering Council. Vaksdal has been secretary and treasurer of the Engineering Honor Council, former editor of the Technic, and a member of the Executive Council of the Union. He is president of Triangle, and a member of Vulcans.

Picard May Be Candidate For Senatorial Post

WASHINGTON, May 26. — (AP) — The contest for the Democratic nomination for United States senator from Michigan took on a new slant today as far as Washington was concerned when "feelers" were sent to Democratic representatives to determine the sentiment for Frank A. Picard of Ishpeming.

The representatives were asked by William B. Mershon, Jr., and James B. O'Neill of Saginaw to give them an expression as to their views about urging Picard to enter the race.

Picard, chairman of the Michigan liquor control commission, has declined so far, they said to give an affirmative reply to requests that he be a candidate. They asked that the expression of opinion be made by May 30.

Hart's Home City

There were a number of significant angles to the new development. One of them is that Saginaw also is the home city of Representative Michael J. Hart, dean of the Democratic delegation from Michigan, who has been regarded as a potential candidate.

Hart has refused so far to say whether he will make the race, and has indicated definitely he will not make up his mind until he returns to Michigan, which probably will be after adjournment of Congress.

Decree Issued To End Irish Free State Senate

DUBLIN, May 26. — (AP) — An official decree of death for the senate of the Irish Free State, effective a year hence, brought Ireland today a step nearer the republic of which President Eamon de Valera dreams.

A bill abolishing the upper house was passed finally by the dail stream, 84 to 38, and de Valera, stormtoy at British control, commented that the government would expect Great Britain to stand aside and let the Irish form a republic of the people.

"We are as old a nation as Britain," he said. "If we want a republic we are entitled to it."

The senate, of course, will throw the dail's bill out. That will make no difference. The bill thrice passed the dail, assuring its effectiveness.

New Regulation On Immigration Stirs Japanese

Reduction Of Quota By Brazil Limits Number To 3,300 Annually

TOKIO, May 26. — (AP) — Grave concern was expressed today by the Japanese government concerning prospects of a drastic reduction of Japanese immigration into Brazil.

A government spokesman said he hoped the Brazilian government valued the friendship of Japan, and that the South American nation would find a means to prevent or indefinitely postpone the enforcement of a new restriction law.

The measure, which will become effective early in June, sets the quota of immigration from any nation at 2 per cent annually of the number of immigrants from that nation within the last 50 years.

The proposed restriction, said Foreign Minister Koki Hirota, in a formal statement in parliament, "will leave a blot on the history of mutually cordial relations between our two countries." He is expected to call upon Kyuzo Hayashi, Japanese ambassador to Brazil, to deal with the situation as tactfully and as effectively as possible.

The restriction would limit annual immigration from Japan to about 3,300 as compared with the present rate of over 25,000. Official estimates placed the number of Japanese in Brazil last year at 165,000.

Fliers Ready For Trans-Atlantic Hop

LEBOURGET, France, May 26. — (AP) — Paul Codos and Maurice Rossi, world's record long distance fliers, decided today they would start tomorrow on an attempt to fly non-stop to San Diego, Calif.

They will take off at 5 a.m. (11 p.m. Saturday, Detroit time.)

They reached their decision on the combined Arago-Atlantic and transcontinental flight after a study of a weather map embracing the whole route.

Good weather was reported over the north Atlantic route which the fliers plan to take. They immediately discarded the alternative plan for a flight to Rio de Janeiro.

The runway here already has been prepared for them. Their airplane is ready to be wheeled out of the hangar and filled with gasoline and oil.

The Frenchmen said they intended to pass directly over New York City, leading to the belief that they will fly the regular transcontinental commercial route over the United States.

Hold Funeral For Barrow In Home Cemetery

Is Buried Next To His Brother; Services For Bonnie Parker Today

DALLAS, Tex., May 26. — (AP) — Clyde Champion Barrow, who robbed and killed in ruthless trail that made him the southwest's most feared bad-man, rested today beneath the rocky hillside soil he trod as a boy.

His brother, Buck, killed by officers' bullets in an Iowa gun battle is buried in the same plot.

Clyde was buried Friday in the unpretentious old French cemetery. His aged mother, anguish in her tone, wailed as she peered through tea-dressed rows at scenic hunters who raced to his grave and snatched at floral offerings.

"Clyde, O Clyde," she moaned, "how can I let you go? Nobody but me knew how sweet and good you were."

The crowd pressed forward. An aunt and cousin of the youthful slayer fainted. They led his wailing mother from the scene. Souvenir seekers stripped the grave of flowers.

Barrow's crime playmate, red-headed Bonnie Parker, will not be buried before Sunday. Her body lay in the home she deserted for her game of hide-and-seek with the law. Her mother, Mrs. Emma Parker, said private funeral services would be held.

Clyde and Bonnie were killed Wednesday near Arcadia, La. Officers blasted away at them as they sped along a highway. They careened into an embankment — their bodies pitted by scores of bullets.

Controversy In Exchange Bill Nears Accord

WASHINGTON, May 26. — (AP) — President Roosevelt was reported authoritatively today to have capitulated to the demand of Senator Glass of Virginia that a special agency rather than the Federal Trade Commission should regulate the stock exchanges.

Settlement of this major controversy between the Senate and House cleared the way for a final agreement today over the form of the Stock Market Regulation Bill.

It was Glass who, through the long market control controversy, led the fight for the independent commission. The chief executive only 10 days ago urged the trade commission plan.

The agreement was reached in one of the strangest Senate-House conferences in congressional history. The official Senate representatives were in constant contact with Glass, who had protested at being left off the committee. Present in the stage wings also was Eugene Black, governor of the Federal Reserve Board, who acted as spokesman for the President.

University Will Be Recipient Of Plaque

Commemorating the pioneer work in anti-toxin of Dr. Henry Sewall, who conducted his experiments during his stay at the University from 1882 to 1887, the Delta chapter of Delta Omega, national public health society, will hold a banquet June 8 at the Union at which time a bronze plaque honoring Dr. Sewall will be presented by the society to the University. Dr. Warren E. Forsythe, director of the Health Service, announced the activities.

In 1887, Dr. Sewall published a treatise on his successful work in immunizing animals against snake venom. Dr. Forsythe said that this work is considered as the foundation of present day immunization of humans by means of anti-toxin. In order to preserve this paper, Delta Omega will publish a pamphlet containing a photostatic copy of the original treatise.

Girl's Glee Club Will Give Concert

The Freshman Girl's Glee Club will present a concert in the Grand Rapids Room of the League at 8:15 p.m. before the Lantern Dance Tuesday.

This concert will be the first formal entertainment that the club has presented this year. Mary Anne Mathewson, '34, has been in charge of the Club this season, and will direct the program Tuesday.

Among the numbers to be presented will be a group of religious songs. Between the song groups Jeannette Rabinowitz, '34SM, and Sarah Lacey, '34SM, will play a few piano solos. The program also includes a number of Chinese selections.

The patrons and patronesses for the Freshman Lantern dance have been invited to attend. There are still a few invitations left which may be procured from Mary E. King, '37.

LEAVES FOR WASHINGTON

Dean J. B. Edmonson of the School of Education has left for Washington, D.C., to confer again with George F. Zook, United States Commissioner of Education, on plans to relieve the youth unemployment problem. The two will also make further announcements for the meeting with industrial and educational leaders, which is to take place on June 1.

Labor Department's First Chief Is Dead

WASHINGTON, May 26. — (AP) — William Bauchop Wilson, the nation's first secretary of labor, is dead at the age of 72.

Ill for many months, but nevertheless carrying on his duties as an arbiter in the Illinois mine fields, Wilson died Friday night aboard a train on his way from Miami, Fla., to Washington. The body was taken from the train at Savannah, Ga. His daughter was with him at the end.

A member of Congress for six years, Wilson left the house in 1913 to serve in President Wilson's cabinet. He was made chief of the then newly-created department of labor.

During the war years and until 1921 he served on the Council of National Defense. Throughout the same period he was a member of the federal board for vocation education, and served as chairman from 1920 to 1921.

Wilson was born in Blantyre, Scotland, April 3, 1862. Coming to America at the age of eight years, he mixed a common school education with work in the mines. Later he received honorary degrees from both Maryland Agricultural college and Ursinus college.

His home was at Blossburg, Pa.
