MEMORIAL LIBRARY:

Prof. Joseph Hayden Devoted Life To Philippine Research

Prof. Joseph R. Hayden, the statesman of the University political science department for whom the proposed memorial library at the University of the Philippines is named, devoted over 25 years to research and class-based study of Philippine life and history.

It was partly because of Prof. Hayden's great interest in the literature of the Philippines that eminent rated his status among that statesmen and thinkers who do all in their power to encourage intimate, student participation in the national campaign now under way to raise funds and interest for the library which is named in the student talent show April 30, a place in Westminster Cave and a campus-wide photographic campaign.

Prof. Hayden was appointed Vice-Governor of the Philippines by President Roosevelt in 1933, and also served as that time member of the legislature. He first visited the territory in May, 1945 and returned that part in preparation to resume his duties here, he died suddenly at the age of 57.

During the year 1922-23 he was exchange professor at the University of the Philippines, and returned as Carnegie visiting professor in 1930-31. During this period he wrote numerous articles for historical periodicals such as "Foreign Affairs," and "Current History," and he "Christian Science Monitor" concerning American-Philippine relations, Philippine independence and Philippine life and history. He also served as director of a number of colonial commissions, and held offices in the American Political Science Association, and was a member of several influential committees concerned with Far Eastern affairs.

Prof. Hayden wrote a number of books, including "The Philippines: A Study in National Development," a monograph on population problems in Puerto Rico and the Philippines, and edited and revised the book "The Philippines, Past and Present" by Dean C. Worcester.

Dairy Strikers Charged With Seizing Milk

Thousands of Gallons Taken From Trains

NEW ORLEANS, April 3.—(AP)—Even as Louisiana's turbulent dairy strike neared tearful climax, a federal grand jury brought theft or milk-transfer charges today against 20 men accused of seizing milk from trains in an effort to cut off the New Orleans supply.

United States officers headed for Amite, where armed men took thousands of gallons of milk off Illinois Central Railroad trains last week. The officers bore warrants for the arrest of those named in the indictments.

Truck Seized

Meanwhile the grand jury turned to an investigation of the seizure of dairy trucks bound for this city and the dumping of their milk contents.

At Kentwood, State Representative Harry Johnson told a meeting of non-striking dairymen that Governor Jimmie H. Davis had assured him he would call a special session of the Louisiana Legislature to deal with the situation.

Committee Balked

Members of an Baton Rouge walkout see word from the governor who appointed an arbitration committee last week. The committee has been unable to make headway toward a settlement.

At New Orleans, a union spokesman hinted at action tomorrow against New Orleans distributors who say the wholesale price of milk from $6.75 per hundredweight to $6.20. Two AFL-affiliated unions—dairy employees and teamsters—struck against the reduction March 24.

There were four indictments, five persons being named on all counts. Twenty others were charged with wilfully and knowingly retarding the passage of the mail.

E. C. Johnston Named To Association Office

Dr. Edgar G. Johnston, assistant director of the Bureau of Cooperation with Educational Institutions has been named secretary of the Commission on Secondary Schools of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.
