OUR VICTORIOUS NINE.

The Baseball Team Returns from its Southern Trip.—New Laurels for the U. of M.

The U. of M. baseball team left Ann Arbor via the T. & A. railroad the evening of Friday the 14th inst. for a ten days' tour of the southern and western states. The party consisted of Manager Cleaveland, Captain Crawford, catcher; Banks, Seymour, and Krogman, pitchers; Jefferis, 1-base; Spurney ("Hanlon"), 2-base; Pearson, 3-base; Spitzer, short-stop; Smeltzer, right-field; Shields, center; and Rich, left. The boys were in splendid condition. They are representative University men and have made most favorable impressions, both as ball players and gentlemen, wherever they have appeared.

The first game occurred at Lexington, Ky., against the Kentucky State University nine. Seymour occupied the box for the U. of M., while the champion twirler of the Blue Grass country, Conover, pitched for the Kentuckians. The game was hotly contested. At first the "yellow and blue" swung low, but Michigan's heavy batters came to the rescue in the latter part of the game and won with flying colors. Score, 9 to 5. The features of Michigan's playing were Crawford's home run drive, timely hits by Spitzer, Rich and Pearson, and the fielding of Smeltzer, Spurney and Spitzer.

The boys remained over Sunday at Lexington, spending the time chiefly in drives about the city and environs.

On Monday, at Danville, Ky., the team met and defeated the Center College nine to the sweet tune of 18 to 4. This is the first defeat suffered by the Center nine in five years. Michigan placed Banks, her regular pitcher, in the box. He proved a puzzler to the Kentuckians, allowing them but three hits off his delivery. Chinn, whose expenses in college are defrayed by the athletic authorities, twirled the sphere for "Old Kentuck." About 700 people, many of whom were Kentucky belles, took advantage of the beautiful day and inspired our boys to win a notable victory. Jefferis, "the finely proportioned," was particularly moved, for he led the hitters with a home run, a tripple and two singles. Crawford, Smeltzer, Spitzer and Spurney also batted heavily. Pearson, Spitzer and Smeltzer distinguished themselves in the field. The U. of M. boys completely captured the Danville people. They owned the town after the game. In the evening a reception in true southern style was tendered the team at the mansion of the Hon. J. W. Yerkes, a prominent lawyer and an alumnus of the U. of M.

The team proceeded thence to Louisville, equipped to play the "Stars" of that city, but a recent fire had destroyed the grand stand, and the game was reluctantly declared off.

The team arrived in St. Louis Tuesday night. The next morning they discovered that the St. Louis Browns-Michigan game was the talk of the town, but it was foreordained that the game should not be played; rain and snow on Wednesday and Thursday rendering necessary the abandonment of the most notable attraction of the entire trip.

At Champaign, Ill., the team remained inactive all day Friday, waiting for the storm to cease. The following day, Saturday, Providence was more kindly disposed, and although a little snow fell and the day was cold, the most interesting game of the trip was played with the University of Illinois nine. The "Suckers" have a strong aggregation of ball tossers this year, they having recently defeated the Washington, (Mo.) University and Wabash College nines. The score was 5 to 5 in the eighth inning. In the ninth an Illinoisan inadvertantly muffed a fly from Rich's bat when the bases were filled and two men were out, thus allowing Michigan to score the winning run. Banks pitched for two innings, allowing his opponents but one hit and no runs. Being hit on the finger by a batted ball, he was obliged to retire at the close of the second. Krogman then went in the box and permitted the Illinoisans to make but four hits. Crawford was credited with three base hits. Rich made a brilliant catch of a hot liner and Spurney sacrificed a put-out for a clever double play.

In the game with Purdue yesterday our team calcimined the Hoosiers, vice versa football, by a score of 18 to 0. Base hits off Seymour and Krogman were as young ladies in the p. g. law class.

SCORE:

Innings	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Michigan	4	0	1	2	4	2	3	2	0	18
Purdue	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0

A DECIDED HIT.

Our Glee and Banjo Clubs meet a Hearty Reception in Chicago. Good Concert.

The Inter Ocean says:

The minstrelsy of Ann Arbor boys charmed a fashionable audience in Central Music Hall last night. Under the auspices of the Alumni Association of the University of Michigan the glee and banjo clubs of that famous Western institution of learning appeared in a concert which proved highly successful and entertaining. Thirty or more young men in dress suits participated in the musical performances of the occasion. They drew inspiration from pretty girls and huge bouquets of fragrant flowers which were scattered through the house in great profusion. The stage was decorated with green plants, and ribbons of yellow and blue—the college colors—hung from the proscenium arch.

The first song on the programme was "Yellow and Blue," and had the effect of arousing all the latent enthusiasm of the alumni who were in the audience, as well as the admiration of all friends of the university. It was a very good song.

The applause rang through the hall like the roar and rattle of hail upon a tin roof. Then for an encore the students came out and sang, "My Country, 'Tis of Thee," to tune of "Ta-ra-ra Boom-de-ay." This was exceedingly amusing, the effect being produced by the incongruity between the sentiment and the air.

The banjo club made its appearance next in Vogel's tuneful "Arion Waltzes." Then came the "Phantom Band," an extremely clever imitation of drumming and horn tooting as done by vagrant street bands.

Mr. George and the club in a serenade by Niedlinger, and "Fun in the Cotton Fields," a string of pleasing plantation melodies, closed part first of the programme.

Part second opened with "A Little of Everything," a medley arranged by Mr. Starrett for the banjo club. Dudley Buck's "Hark! the Trumpet!" was sung with fine spirit; and then Mr. Thompson, with his extraordinary bass voice, and assisted by the glee club, sang "Old Thompson's Mule, a very grotesque bit of humor.

"Spin, Spin," by Jungst; Jaxone's "La Seranate" and the "Cigarette Song" finished part two.

"Blue Ribbon March," banjo club quintet; West's "A Warrior Bold;" James Whitcomb Riley and Jules Jordan's "A Life Lesson," by Mr. Richardson and the club; "There Was an Old Soldier," "Hat Drill," and "Ann Arbor" concluded the performance.

A complete account of trip will appear in tomorrows DAILY.

Prof. Griffin lectures to the laws today.

C. M. Holt has been appointed athletic editor of the DAILY.

There will probably be a '94-'96 baseball game tomorrow or Saturday.

Invitations have been sent out for the Hobart Guild social next Saturday evening.

A student was arrested yesterday for violating the ordinance against riding bicycles on the sidewalks.

The junior laws will have their first section quizzes in Partnership this week, covering the first six lectures.

It is said on good authority that the students spend annually in Ann Arbor more than twelve hundred thousand dollars.

Prof. Carhart read an interesting paper before the National Academy of Science, in Washington, last Friday, on certain electrical propositions.

Princeton students are taking a hand in politics with the purpose of breaking up an unscrupulous political ring in the town of Princetown. As there are only 900 voters in town, the students hold the balance of power.

R. A. J. Shaw, formerly with '94, now of the University of Chicago, was recently elected speaker of the House of Representatives of the University of Chicago.

A committee of co-eds visited the legislature last week and urged the passage of the $20,000 appropriation for the co-ed annex. It is said the bachelor legislators were favorably impressed.

The U. of M. exhibit will occupy 3,000 square feet of floor space in the liberal arts building besides considerable space in the Michigan state building. In amount of space given to American colleges we rank second only to Harvard, which has 4,000 square feet.

Seventy-six U. of M. students have engaged with the Columbian Wheel Chair Co., and will spend the summer vacation at the Wold's Fair. This company employs 2,900 students and the U. of M., according to reports, ranks first among the universities of the country in the number of students on the rolls of the company.

A joint debate has been arranged between the University of Minnesota and the University of Iowa. The debate will be held in Minneapolis, May 27, on the question: "Resolved, That the Government should own and control the telegraphs," and will be affirmed by the University of Minnesota and denied by the University of Iowa.
